

TWO-YEAR COLLEGE ENGLISH ASSOCIATION NATIONAL CONFERENCE

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 13, 2019 • PITTSBURGH, PA

The first National TYCA conference is an opportunity to talk “across country” with two-year college faculty who are facing challenges related to course load, state funding, dual credit, maintaining rigor with underserved student populations, and more. In a system that often fails our students, we’re working together to eliminate barriers and empower students within our communities.

Starting the Conversation: Teaching, Scholarship, and Activism at Two-Year Colleges

DATE: Wednesday, March 13, 2019

LOCATION: David L. Lawrence Convention Center, Pittsburgh, PA
(Offered in conjunction with the 2019 CCCC Annual Convention)

REGISTRATION INFORMATION:

Opening in late August 2018 in conjunction with CCCC registration
TYCA Conference Registration: $150
Add-on CCCC 2019 Registration: $100 (March 14-16, 2019)

LUNCHEON FEATURING KIESE LAYMON:

Born and raised in Jackson, Mississippi, Kiese Laymon, Otilie Schillig Professor of English and Creative Writing at the University of Mississippi, is the author of the novel Long Division and a collection of essays, How to Slowly Kill Yourself and Others in America. He is also the author of the memoir Heavy, which was shortlisted for the Andrew Carnegie Medal and Kirkus Prize Finalist.

PROGRAMMING: 50 breakout sessions and an opening session, luncheon, and evening event with plenary speakers

TENTATIVE SCHEDULE:

| | |
|------------------|-----------------|
| 8:00-9:30 am | Opening Session |
| 9:45 am-12:00 pm | Breakouts |
| 12:15-1:45 pm | Luncheon |
| 2:00-5:30 pm | Breakouts |
| 5:00-6:00 pm | Poster Session |
| 6:00-8:00 pm | Evening event |

CONTACT FOR QUESTIONS: tyca@ncte.org

Conference on College Composition
& Communication

National Council of Teachers of English®