ELATE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE
CONFLICT OF INTEREST DISCLOSURE
AND CONFIDENTIALITY POLICY

Members of the English Language Arts Teacher Educators (ELATE) Executive Committee (EC) must reflect the highest standards of ethical behavior, integrity, and public responsibility. NCTE recognizes the inherent right of members of the ELATE Executive Committee to pursue outside interests. However, these outside interests may affect a transaction in which NCTE is involved or diminish NCTE’s ability to conduct objective and unbiased decision-making. If an actual or perceived conflict of interest exists, it is NCTE’s policy to require disclosure, and, whenever feasible, avoidance of actual or potential conflicts of interest.

Examples include:
• Serving as a paid consultant to NCTE or to a vendor to NCTE or to one of its subsidiaries or to affiliates;
• Serving in a fiduciary role for another organization that competes with NCTE or takes public positions adverse to those of NCTE;
• Receiving from NCTE an award, contract, grant, or sponsorship in excess of $1,000 annually;
• Investing significantly in an entity that deals with NCTE in a commercial capacity; or
• Having family members or business associates with these relationships.

ADVANCE DISCLOSURE REQUIREMENT AND REPORTING PROCEDURE
Each ELATE EC member will disclose each issue, subject, person, or entity in which s/he has a financial or other interest where there is the potential that the ELATE Executive Committee may make decisions that affect that issue, subject, person, or entity.

To ensure accurate, up-to-date information, each ELATE EC member will review his or her disclosure statement during on-site meetings and update as necessary.

Each ELATE EC member will describe clearly his or her interest in each such issue, subject, person, or entity on this form supplied by, and returned to, NCTE’s Executive Director. The information on this form will be reviewed by the NCTE Executive Director, and shared with ELATE’s Executive Committee if relevant to the discussion at hand. ELATE EC members are asked to sign this policy prior to the beginning of their board term. Thereafter, they update it at the first board meeting of each fiscal year.

IMMEDIATE DISCLOSURE REQUIREMENT AND REPORTING PROCEDURE
When the ELATE Executive Committee addresses an issue, subject, person, or entity in which a ELATE EC member has a financial or other interest that that ELATE EC member did not list on the annual disclosure form (whether because the ELATE EC member did not anticipate the matter arising or otherwise), s/he will immediately disclose the potential conflict.

If the ELATE EC member discovers the matter prior to the beginning of a ELATE Executive Committee meeting or call (e.g., upon reading the board agenda book), the ELATE EC member will provide the necessary disclosure to ELATE’s Chair. If the matter is discovered during a ELATE Executive Committee meeting or call, the ELATE EC member will immediately stop the conversation and inform the board of the potential for a conflict of interest. If the ELATE EC member feels that the issue requires confidential treatment, the ELATE EC member may instead inform the Chair (or, if the Chair is the one with the potential conflict, the Vice Chair) who will decide if the board needs to be informed of the matter.
PROCEDURE FOR DEALING WITH POTENTIAL CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

The ELATE Executive Committee will determine whether each issue raised on an annual form or on an ad hoc basis requires that the ELATE EC member’s participation be altered. The board may require that the ELATE EC member: (a) remove him- or herself from voting on the issue, (b) not participate in either the discussion of the issue or the vote on it, (c) leave the room during discussion and voting on the issue, or (d) merely explain his or her interest in the matter more fully so the ELATE Executive Committee may weigh that ELATE EC member’s participation with complete understanding of the situation. If warranted, the information will be reviewed by the Chair for evaluation and possible recommendation to the ELATE Executive Committee. The ELATE Executive Committee, not the volunteer making the disclosure, has the exclusive authority and responsibility to decide an appropriate reaction to the disclosure. This may be:

1. Disclosure. The disclosure of a volunteer’s other interest is worthy of the board’s attention. The disclosure itself, and the board’s awareness of the disclosure, is considered sufficient to correct for any bias it might entail. So the board is likely to decide although the volunteer clearly has some other interest, the board and/or committee will simply take the information into account as the volunteer participates in decision-making.

2. Recusal. The other interest that has been disclosed affects an important policy or program for the association. To assure the NCTE and its constituency that board decision-making is without bias, it is best for the volunteer to recuse him/herself when the board/committee takes reports, debates, or makes decisions about that policy or program. The volunteer is asked to leave the room for any discussion on the topic.

3. Resignation. The other interest relates to a continuing, pervasive, and important board or committee function, one that cannot easily be isolated on an agenda so as to permit recusal. In this case, the volunteer may be asked to resign his/her position, if this is the only way to ensure the other interest does not intrude upon and skew board decision-making. This is an extreme and rare result of a volunteer’s disclosure, but it is conceivable.

CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

Confidential information disclosed to members of the ELATE Executive Committee or executive staff will be treated as confidential. They may not use or disclose confidential information except as authorized by NCTE, and they should make their best efforts to prevent unauthorized disclosure. “Confidential information” includes that which is marked “Confidential” or which reasonably should be understood as expected to be kept in confidence, as well as deliberations, discussions, and debates on those matters, unless the information is available through public sources.

Unauthorized disclosure of confidential information could cause irreparable harm and significant injury to NCTE and its members. Upon request, any confidential information will be returned to NCTE.

ELATE Executive Committee Attendance Policy

The English Language Arts Teacher Educators Executive Committee members, elected by the ELATE membership to represent and serve the organization committed to English Language Arts teacher education, hold an Executive Committee Meeting at the NCTE Fall Convention. To assure that all members know the importance of attendance, the Executive Committee passed the following policy on November 21, 1996, at Chicago, Illinois.

Elected members of the ELATE Executive Committee who miss two meetings will receive a Letter from the ELATE Chair. The letter will state the importance of having each member’s voice in the Executive Committee discussions and will offer the member the opportunity to resign. The spirit of this letter is to acknowledge that sometimes people’s circumstances change and that they might welcome this option. If the member does not wish to resign, the letter will nudge the Executive Committee member to return to the meetings. If the member resigns, the person who received the next highest number of votes the year the original member was elected will be invited to serve the rest of the term. If a member of the ELATE Executive Committee misses three board meetings, the Chair will ask the board to consider replacing that member with the person who received the next highest number of votes. The ELATE Chair will assure that all appropriate paperwork at NCTE headquarters is completed.
Reimbursement and Expense Policy

ELATE Executive Committee members will receive a $50 per diem for attending the ELATE Executive Committee Meeting at the NCTE Annual Convention.

In addition, ELATE has allocated up to $1,000 for an ELATE Executive Committee dinner on Saturday evening of the NCTE Annual Convention.

At the NCTE Annual Convention, the required events for ELATE Executive Committee members are: the Executive Committee Meeting, the ELATE Luncheon, and the ELATE General Membership Meeting/Social.

Nominating Committee
Responsibilities & Activities

- Eight candidates are nominated and five are elected members to the ELATE Nominating Committee.
- Serve on the Nominating Committee for one year. The term begins in September of the year elected.
- The candidate receiving the largest number of votes automatically becomes chair.

The Chair circulates these names to the other committee members for consideration. NCTE staff will create a listserv for the committee for that purpose.
- The Nominating Committee initiates suggestions for nominations and may submit these suggestions individually by a group consensus.

Finances

The COVID-19 pandemic arrived in early March and disrupted all planned travel and in-person meetings during the final months of the fiscal year. Most expenses are on decline because of the COVID-19 pandemic and canceling the summer conference for Summer 2022 (FY23). ELATE budget proposal for the FY22 was shared. The report shows a multiyear perspective on the financial results for ELATE for the purpose of developing the FY22 budget. The projected results included here for FY21 were developed using financial results through March 31, 2021, and then updated for known changes since that time (April 2021 financials are not final). So far, net assets have increased $8,570. This tracks favorably to budget, which projects a total decrease in net assets of $7,980; the primary reason for this increase is reduced spending on travel and food and beverage expenses. Below is a summary of revenues by source in FY21 versus the proposed FY22 budget. Note that proposed FY22 does not include an ELATE Summer Conference, as that is currently rescheduled for July 2022, which falls in the FY23 budget year.

Membership Concerns

The EC is continuing to brainstorm how to reframe the language used to promote ELATE membership so that we don’t lead with the journal subscription. Membership is down 4.8% since last year. We are hoping to increase membership during the NCTE Homecoming/ELATE conference event.

Ad Hoc Committees

The CAEP Standards Committee

NCTE Standards for the Preparation of Teachers in the English Language Arts went back out to the larger membership for revisions after the Committee made recommendations regarding some concerns about incorporation of critical media literacy and multimodality. The committee revised standards and made the following recommendations regarding additional comments/concerns made by CAEP. The materials about which suggestions were made are all related to the implementation of the standards at the program level as well as the program review process that NCTE will facilitate for those programs seeking national recognition as part of the CAEP accreditation process. The committee leadership (Donna, Marshall, Chris) reviewed the CAEP recommendations and conferred with Paul Yoder before making our recommendation to NCTE leadership. Following is a recap of our responses sent to NCTE leadership in October 2020 with a few additional notes.

Suggestions #1 and #2 (rubrics)

According to Paul Yoder, who is truly the most knowledgeable about the NCTE program review process, the CAEP concerns about the rubrics were not shared by the NCTE reviewers. The rubrics as written serve an adequate foundation for which to conduct the review. The job of the review team is to determine that the standards are indeed being applied and measured, but the specific quality of a given assessment, while open to comment, is not judged by the review team. Thus, our recommendation is that CAEP Suggestions for Improvement #s 1-2 do not need to be acted upon.

Suggestions #3 and #4 (support materials for programs)

With regards to suggestions 3&4, related to the support materials that NCTE provides for programs who want to implement the standards (whether for CAEP review or other purposes), we recommend that a new “standards implementation working group” be formed to review the materials that were part of the CAEP application process and to determine if and how they need to be revised, supplemented, and distributed for the purpose of supporting English Language Arts teacher education programs. Our recommendation is that this new working group be made up of ELA teacher preparation program leaders who will be implementing the new standards so that we can ensure that the materials are as useful as possible to programs. It might be a good idea to have at least 1-2 members of the current committee serve on that group to provide any insight about the standards that might prove helpful to the implementation process. We do not believe that any of these support materials need to be resubmitted to CAEP for their review.

Suggestion #5 (record keeping, recruitment, selection, retention of reviewers)

Finally, with regards to suggestion # 5, the committee supports the notion that NCTE should be able to “demonstrate, promote, and ensure diversity in selection, assignment, and retention of reviewers.” However, any decision related to records and profiles kept related to reviewers should be made by NCTE and ELATE leadership.

Mentoring Committee

Efforts to revise and maintain the Mentoring Program has been led Chris Goering in order to ensure that the program remains viable. Members, Nadia Behizadeh, Nicole Sieben, and Lindy Johnson volunteered to help with efforts. ELATE EC members participated as mentors for the program that usually runs from October to the end of the school year, there was not a mentoring program in 2019-2020 and in 2020 it got a later start than usual because of the pandemic and the virtual convention.

This year’s mentoring program generated more interest than in the past. Approximately 29 faculty mentors and 29 mentees participated (these plus Goering totaled 59 participants). There were two follow-up meetings, one in January and one on April 1. Participants had opportunities to talk with colleagues from across the country about common concerns and specific experiences.

ELATE Operations Committee

ELATE Operations will review Current Position Statements/Policies and Constitutional Changes in order to address issues with language, policy, etc. that are outdated or problematic. The committee would address issues like: Is there an inconsistent or inappropriate use of gendered pronouns in the constitution, for example? Are there other concerns in our outward facing documentation of who we are, what we’re about? Members Nicole Mirra, Nadia Behizadeh and Melanie Shoffner volunteered to lead the effort.

ELATE Graduate Stand

Stacia L. Long is the current chair. The graduate strand is looking to increase and diversify its membership. They have several initiatives including, conference newsletter for graduate students attending NCTE and ELATE and developing a written history of ELATE-GS.

Finances

Financial results for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2020 were shared with the EC. This year has been challenging beyond what we could have envisioned as we began last summer. The COVID-19 pandemic arrived in early March and disrupted all planned travel and in-person meetings during the final months of the fiscal year. As this report shows, the financial impact in FY20 was a positive one as a result of the reduced travel costs. The longer-term impacts of the pandemic will be seen in FY21 and possibly beyond, as the timing of resuming in-person meetings is still uncertain. Membership increased by 178 members (20.1%) during FY20. This marks three consecutive fiscal years with a membership increase. The EC voted to increase funds from $200 annually for the ELATE-GS’s activities to $400.

Membership Concerns

The EC is continuing to brainstorm how to reframe the language used to promote ELATE membership so that we don’t lead with the journal subscription.

Ad Hoc Committees

The CAEP Standards Committee

NCTE Standards for the Preparation of Teachers in the English Language Arts is up for NCTE Board Approval.

Mentoring Committee

Efforts to revise and maintain the Mentoring Program will be led by Chris Goering in order to ensure that the program remains viable. Members Nadia Behizadeh, Nicole Sieben, and Lindy Johnson volunteered to help with efforts.

ELATE Operations Committee

ELATE Operations will review Current Position Statements/Policies and Constitutional Changes in order to address issues with language, policy, etc. that are outdated or problematic. The committee would address issues like: Is there an inconsistent or inappropriate use of gendered pronouns in the constitution, for example? Are there other concerns in our outward facing documentation of who we are, what we’re about? Members Nicole Mirra, Nadia Behizadeh and Melanie Shoffner volunteered to lead the effort.
It was recommended, discussed, voted on, and a decision to postpone the 2021 ELATE Summer Conference to the Summer 2022 was carried by a majority vote. Ideas are being discussed about a virtual replacement event for Summer that could serve graduate students, in particular, in any. The EC had breakout sessions for what the event would look like in 2021. Summer 2022 ELATE conference planning has been postponed. A theme and call were created for the conference, interested individuals can access it here. It will be revisited and perhaps revised for the rescheduled conference.

Report from the English Language Arts Teacher Educators (ELATE)
July 2020

ELATE Biennial Conference
The 2021 Summer Conference is currently under development, planned for July 15-18 in Tuscaloosa, Alabama. Vice-Chair Latrise Johnson has assembled a conference planning committee that will develop the scope and sequence of the conference, a call for proposals, and assist her in the various other tasks of visioning, enacting, and promoting our conference. Informally, several longstanding CEE/ELATE members have reached out about the conference, anticipating that it might be one of the first opportunities for an in-person professional convening following the COVID-19 closures. The biennial summer conference is the biggest single undertaking of ELATE and the majority of that work falls on the capable shoulders of Kristen Ritchie, NCTE Director of Affiliated Groups.

NCTE Annual Convention 2020
ELATE Executive Committee members Amanda Haertling-Thein and Todd Destigter served as program chair for our portion of the planned NCTE Annual Convention. The ELATE Executive Committee will conduct its meeting at a time prior to the virtual Convention.

Journals
English Education
ELATE extends a hearty thank you and congratulations to outgoing editor Tara Star Johnson on a successful and provocative term as the leader of our field’s journal. During Johnson’s term as editor, two issues of the journal were published, celebrating and marking the 50th anniversary of its publication. It included contributions from multiple previous editors and Janet Emig award winners, the award our group gives for the best article in each calendar year. Former ELATE Chair and new English Education editor Melanie Shoffner will publish her first issue in October.

CITE Journal
Nicole Mirra is set to complete her four-year term as editor of the Contemporary Issues in Technology and Teacher Education (English) journal. A search for the next editor, who will shadow Mirra for one year, is currently ongoing.

NCTE Standards for the Preparation of English Language Arts Teachers, 7-12
In June of 2019, some members of the 2018–2019 Steering Committee reconvened to review the concerns detailed by CAEP in their review of the January 2019 submission. At that time, Steering Committee membership changed due to a number of circumstances: (1) ELATE Chair Mollie Blackburn’s length of service ended and Christian Goering moved into that position; and (2) Troy Hicks, first author of the 2019 submission, stepped down, and Donna L. Pasternak and Marshall A. George, original members of the 2018–2019 Steering Committee, moved into the lead authorship roles. Starting in summer 2019, Goering, Pasternak, and George met virtually to reassess the membership of the standards Steering Committee to ensure a wider range of stakeholders were involved in drafting and organizing the work ahead. Over the next few months, in email and phone consultation with Emily Kirkpatrick, NCTE Executive Director; Leah Zuidema, incoming NCTE President and ELATE member; and Kristen Ritchie, NCTE Director of Affiliated Groups, the Steering Committee leadership group decided to recruit volunteers across all NCTE constituency groups to serve on a newly organized standards Steering Committee and revisit the decision to narrowly focus the revision of the 2012 standards.

The 2019–2020 Steering Committee members were recruited through a national email newsletter distributed by NCTE to all its members, encouraging them to volunteer to serve in this capacity. Thirty-two volunteers stepped forward, and from that list, the Steering Committee was selected spanning representation as defined by NCTE, specifically that all committees must include K–12 teachers. Sophia Sarigianides, professor of English education, volunteered again to serve on the 2019–2020 Steering Committee. However, many new volunteers across all NCTE constituency groups volunteered to participate. Thus the 2019–2020 committee also included Alison Matkia, an NCTE/CAEP program reviewer; Kerry Thomas-Mess, a high school English teacher from Milwaukee, WI, and a representative of NCTE’s Conference on English Leadership; Paul Yoder, the NCTE CAEP liaison; and Lanette Jimerson, an assistant professor of curriculum and instruction who formerly worked with the Stanford Center for Assessment, Learning and Equity. The Steering Committee corresponded via email in September and early October with Hicks and other members of the 2018–2019 Steering Committee to discuss the feedback provided by CAEP on the January 2019 submission. The members of the 2019–2020 Steering Committee then met in person in New York City at Hunter College in October 2019 to discuss the present state of English teacher education and how the revised standards would be responsive to the field.

Upon meeting in New York with Kirkpatrick and Ritchie, Steering Committee members first reviewed the history of the standards, the procedures for reviewing program reports from institutions that had submitted them to NCTE, the process that brought about the 2018–2019 standards draft that was rejected, the feedback provided by the CAEP reviewers, and CAEP standards applications from Elementary Education and Math Education. In keeping with decisions made by the 2018–2019 Steering Committee, the 2019–2020 Steering Committee reviewed the decision to narrowly focus the revision of the 2018–2019 draft around the use of the term \textit{adolescent} and \textit{adolescence}, using the term \textit{compositional fluency} to represent a variety of media and genres, and updating empirical research in alignment with the terms \textit{culturally sustaining pedagogy} and \textit{(dis)ability and exceptionality}.

Members of the Steering Committee then met in small groups at Hunter College to prioritize and focus the feedback received from CAEP on the rejected 2018–2019 application. Following a careful reading of the revisions requested, the group reached a conclusion early in their deliberations that a more significant revision of the standards was in order, producing a new draft of the standards (October 11, 2019) over the next two days that addressed the following:

1) Improve the alignment between each of the standards and their accompanying components, making sure that the components represented each aspect within any given standard;
2) Update the language throughout the standards and their components to align with current literature in the field and identify word choices that needed to be glossed;
3) Simplify components whenever possible; and
4) Align the organization and the language of the standards with the Interstate New Teacher Assessment and Support Consortium (InTASC).

Following the meeting in New York, Goering, George, and Pasternak continued to meet virtually to polish the standards (draft October 19, 2019), update empirical research, and vet the standards draft with members of the 2018–2019 Steering Committee for additional feedback in preparation for the promulgation of the 2019–2020 draft at NCTE’s Annual Convention in November 2019 with the ELATE Executive Committee and the CAEP reviewers.

From these two groups, George, Goering, and Pasternak collected general feedback concerning alignment of the standards, their assessment, and evidence that the standards could be met. More specific feedback from the ELATE Executive Committee influenced the use of word choices (\textit{social justice} versus \textit{anti-racist} or \textit{anti-bias}, \textit{curate} versus \textit{compositional fluency}) that necessitated the drafting of additional components and realignment. Once these changes were incorporated into a new draft (December 10, 2019), the draft was then sent to the chairs of the ELATE Commission for Social Justice and the members of the ELATE Executive Committee Ad Hoc Committee on the Standards to develop additional consensus on the alignment of the language throughout the standards. These two groups expressed concern that the standards should use demonstrable language, with the concept of research-aligned practices as opposed to research-informed, with the use of any specialized language such as funds of knowledge or the term languaging instead of language, and expressed a clear need for a concise glossary of terms. This feedback was then incorporated into a new draft of the standards (February 1, 2020) that would be distributed to NCTE's Executive Committee in early February 2020 for additional feedback. The NCTE Executive Committee is composed of representatives from all levels of NCTE constituency groups from early childhood to university and are the elected delegates for each group.

Pasternak, George, and Goering met with the NCTE Executive Committee on February 21, 2020, to develop consensus and vet the standards. The feedback the NCTE Executive Committee provided included concerns with a number of terms and concepts: (1) equity-oriented was too soft a term when the standards really meant antiracist teaching practices, (2) asset-based was deficit language and needed softening, (3) gathering and interpreting data might be thought of as too utilitarian and would not meet the varied needs of many learners, and (4) if we mean antiracist teaching practices, then that is the term that should be used in the standards. Additionally, NCTE Executive Committee members suggested that references to NCTE’s position and policy statements needed to be made throughout the document as often as possible in the glossary.

With this new feedback addressed in a new draft of the standards (March 9, 2020), a draft of the standards and its glossary was released for feedback to the entire NCTE membership on March 25, 2020. Commentary and feedback were collected through April 13, 2020. Much of the feedback approved of having the social justice standard incorporated throughout every standard and component. One revealing comment expressed, “Certain vocabularies (i.e., antiracist, funds of knowledge, languaging, youth/adolescent constructs) are used to reflect current research. Which words we use and how we use them changes over time, and this document reflects that currency.” The majority of respondents felt that the standards represented the best thinking in the field of English language arts education, both current today and thinking forward as much as possible. However, there was some concern with the term antiracist, the term adopted by NCTE in its 2018 position statement that allowed for the exploration of its use throughout the glossary.

Following the feedback from the general membership, we also contacted the International Literacy Association (ILA), the Council of Chief State School Officers (CCSSO), and the Teachers of English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) to solicit additional feedback from their unique and valuable perspectives. Furthermore, during this period, while drafting the evidence and assessment guides, the Steering Committee contacted the English Education CAEP reviewers to vet and augment parts of the application because of their years of experience reviewing SPAs in English teacher education. We then solicited focused feedback on the standards and components, rubrics, bibliographies, and supporting evidence from leaders in the field of English teacher education as well as K–12 classroom teachers. The application was submitted to the ELATE Executive Committee for final review and then went on to the NCTE Executive Committee. Lastly, the application was submitted to NCTE for compilation and submission to CAEP, the final act which was completed on June 23, 2020.

Statement

In the wake of the tragic murder of George Floyd, ELATE Executive Members assembled in digital spaces to craft and release “ELATE Statement on State-Sanctioned Anti-Black Racism and Violence: A Commitment to Antiracist Instruction in English Language Arts,” on June 12, 2020. Every Executive Committee member contributed to and signed the document. Work stemming from the statement is ongoing.

Awards

Justin Grinage, University of Minnesota, was selected as the 2020 Janet Emig Award Winner for his article, the best in the calendar year of English Education, “Reopening Racial Wounds: Whiteness, Melancholia, and Affect in the English Classroom.” The Emig award is selected each year by a committee of ELATE Executive Committee members who are charged with reviewing a year’s worth of articles and narrowing the selection to a single honoree.

NCTE Annual Convention
The ELATE Executive Committee met on Thursday before convention to conduct the business of the organization. We were joined by guest speakers NCTE Executive Director Emily Kirkpatrick, NCTE/CAEP SPA guru Paul Yoder, and Donna Pasternak/ Marshall George, co-chairs of the NCTE/CAEP Standards Revision Committee. Troy Hicks, Rob Petrone, and David Shaafsma concluded their terms on the EC while Tamara Butler, Luke Rodesiler, and Allison Skerrett began four-year terms. Latrise Johnson, University of Alabama, was elected to the role of vice-chair and began serving a four-year term from November 2019 through November 2023. Tracey Flores (chair), Ashley Boyd, Jennifer Dail, Sharonical Nelson, and Jon Wargo served as the 2019-2020 ELATE Nominating Committee.

The ELATE membership writ large offered papers, posters, roundtables, and workshops throughout the conference that were both well-attended and well-received. The ELATE Commissions hosted sessions and met twice during the conference. Young Adult author Rainbow Rowell served as luncheon speaker. Kristen (Suchor) Ritchie thankfully and successfully kept all ELATE things running smoothly and on time. Program chairs for the 2020 Annual Convention are ELATE Executive Committee members Amanda Haertling-Thein and Todd Destigter.

CAEP/NCTE Standards Revision
Following generous feedback from CAEP, the ad hoc committee examining and revising the standards for CAEP disbanded and a new committee was formed, co-chaired by continuing committee members Donna Pasternak and Marshall George. Additional members include Chris Goering, Lanette Jimerson, Alison Matkia, Sophia Saringalides, Kerry Thomas-Mess, and Paul Yoder. The newly formed group represents K-12 teachers and the SPA accreditation community, per request of the feedback. Emily Kirkpatrick and Kristen Suchor joined the group for a two-day meeting in New York City, October 10-11 hosted by the Hunter College (CUNY) School of Education. Updated standards will be shared and vetted through the NCTE EC, the ELATE EC, the general membership, and other constituencies between October 2019 and February 2020 with a resubmission due on July 1, 2020.

Ad Hoc Committees
The work of two Ad Hoc Committees, both charged by the chair, are prioritizing the work of ELATE.

The CAEP Standards Support Committee
Working in support of the Revision Committee, this ad hoc collection of ELATE EC members is set to provide feedback on drafts, support for resources, literature review to support standards, and other duties as assigned.

ELATE Connections Committee
A group naturally formed at the ELATE EC meeting in November in Baltimore that is working towards reaching out to other groups within the council and outside the council to expand and extend the work of ELATE. One idea, for example, is to host a webinar on a topic to be announced.

Chair Latrise Johnson called the meeting to order at 11:00am.

Agenda Items

1. Welcome and ELATE Chair’s Remarks (Latrise Johnson)

   - Johnson welcomed everyone.
   - In taking on the role of chair, she said that she is struggling with defining/explaining the organization to others – that there is a website, there are commissions, and there are benefits that we list about what it means to be a member, but the list didn’t feel active enough to her.
   - She is hoping that during this meeting and following meetings that the EC really thinks about ELATE’s identity and the work that we need to do as a collective of people who are all involved and care about what happens in ELA teacher education around the country and world.
- She hopes that as we move forward together we can think about who we are, the things that we want to do and be in the future, and how ELATE should move within NCTE and as a body.

2. Adoption of the Agenda

- Motion 2021.1: Behizadeh moved, Allen seconded. Motion carried.

3. ELATE FY22 Budget Proposal (Kristen Ritchie)

- Ritchie shared ELATE’s financial report, which is current through March 2021.
- Because we don’t have as many expenses as we would in a normal year, we have $8500 in excess net income right now.
- The biggest bucket of ELATE income is membership dues. Membership is down 4.8% since last fiscal year – this is not great, but we are faring better than a lot of other groups. We are working to revamp renewal processes and member outreach to turn this around.
- There is a decline in institutional subscriptions – another area where NCTE is trying to make inroads.
- Most expenses on decline, due in part to the fact that we have not had a summer conference since 2019. The next one will not be until FY 23.
- Nothing has changed much for English Education - it has stayed pretty consistent and we are expecting that to continue.
- Dues income is tracking slightly above because of a slight membership bump from last year but that will start reducing because of the recent decline.
- We are not budgeting for summer conference in FY 22.
- Committee expenses will be holding level – we are budgeting to be back to in person events sometime in FY 22.
- ELATE’s admin expenses are charged back to the org at a rate of 25%.
- Interest income is at pretty low rate because of current context. Ritchie reviews two options for investment within NCTE. The budget has net loss of $1794.
- Ritchie asked if anyone had questions.
- Goering asked about the rental expense on the financial report. Ritchie said that this is possibly related to 2019 NCTE convention AV expenses. Chris asked about jump in expenses related to the 2019 summer conference.
- Shoffner asked about the reason for the high bank and credit card fees. Ritchie said that this cost was related to processing registrations. Shoffner suggested looking into more competitive rates.
- Destigter asked how ELATE’s reserve fund cushion compared to other sub-groups within NCTE. Ritchie said that proportionally it’s about the same. Destigter asked about the history of how the reserve was built. Ritchie gave a brief summary of the strategy; part of the reserve was helped by fortuitous interest rates over time. Destigter asked if we could responsibly spend down the reserve or if that would be a risky move. Ritchie said that any spending should be strategic in terms of building membership, building ELATE, and building something long term for the organization rather than one-off programs.
- Shoffner asked which investment option ELATE uses. Ritchie said that it is the first option (Treasury bonds) and said that this choice was voted on by the EC many years ago and that there would need to be a vote to change it. Goering asked if the experience of other groups within NCTE suggests that it would be advantageous to make a change. Ritchie said that it has worked out for other groups but it is riskier. Johnson suggested that the EC invite a financial advisor in to address the group and explain what potential changes could mean long-term for ELATE. Goering supported this idea. Johnson said that the group needs to think about what ELATE would with more money as we consider these potential moves.

- Motion 2021.2: Goering moved to approve budget, Johnson seconded. Motion carried.

4. 2022 ELATE Summer Conference (Discussion)

- Johnson said that NCTE had proposed an event that would impact planning for the ELATE summer conference. She said that NCTE had proposed hosting an event during summer 2022 bringing multiple NCTE groups together in one place. She asked everyone to read the document attached to the agenda about it.
- Ritchie said that this event could be financially beneficial to ELATE in terms of cost-sharing and in terms of potentially involving other audiences in addition to the audience ELATE typically attracts.
- Sieben asked about registration fees for the joint event and how the revenue would be split among groups. Ritchie said that this has not yet been established.
- Sariganides asked about timing of the event because of the potential trade-offs of a June vs. July for those with parenting/care responsibilities. This has not yet been finalized.
- Shoffner asked about the potential benefits and drawbacks of combining the ELATE summer conference, which is praised for its informality, with a more formal conference event. Johnson said that she does not want how things were done in the past to determine the future but that there is room to develop the structure of the event further and that the EC can decide what the event could look like. Shoffner said that she agrees that ELATE needs to change and move forward while not losing good pieces of what the former conference had in terms of intimacy and informality.
- Goering asked what would happen if the EC said no to working on this joint event with NCTE. Johnson said that the NCTE event might not happen if ELATE was not on board. Johnson shared some preliminary ideas about how the event could be different than a traditional convention in terms of affinity spaces and combined spaces.
- Butler offered support for the idea of moving forward with the intent and planning of the joint event even though location and date was not finalized because planning could ensure that ELATE will be able to keep its identity and build with NCTE, much like CNV does.
- Ritchie said that ELATE will be able to retain as much of the former conferences as desired.
- Goering asked if this is being conceptualized as a one-time or ongoing event. Johnson said that this event is being planned in response to this moment to bring the wider NCTE community back together as a kind of homecoming. The plan is to get back on track with odd-year ELATE conferences starting in 2023.
- Shoffner said that the success of the event would be related to the extent that multiple groups within NCTE commit to participate.
- Garcia said that travel budgets might be a concern for potential attendees if back-to-back conference events are held in summer 2022 and 2023 and asked if conference years could be shifted. Ritchie said that ELATE meets in odd years and affiliate groups meet in even years.
- Johnson said that ELATE is a leading voice in terms of this idea moving forward with affiliate groups.
- Sariganides said that universities are restricting funds moving forward, which could lead to financial challenges for potential attendees, particularly traveling for two years in a row.
Johnson said that she is committed to thinking about access and inclusivity moving forward, potentially through a hybrid conference or a virtual summer conference in 2023.
- Garcia said that graduate students will likely experience financial hardship as well.
- Goering suggested tabling the discussion until more specifics are available about the potential joint event in 2022. Johnson said that she will get more information at the NCTE EC meeting so that the group can revisit this.

5. Mentor Program update (Chris Goering and Nicole Sieben)

- Goering thanked ELATE EC members who participated as mentors. He said that while the mentoring program usually runs from October to the end of the school year, there was not a mentoring program in 2019-2020 and in 2020 it got a later start than usual because of the pandemic and the virtual convention.
- Goering said that this year’s mentoring program generated more interest than he can remember in the past. 29 faculty mentors and 29 mentees participated (these plus Goering totaled 59 participants). There were two follow-up meetings, one in January and one 3-4 weeks ago. Participants had opportunities to talk with colleagues from across the country about common concerns and specific experiences.
- In terms of takeaways, Sieben talked about the stresses of this year for all participants. Participants felt that they were doing double the work without recognition/compensation for that labor. Sieben noted a suggestion from the group to create more awards that could come with monetary support and/or recognition.
- Sieben said that the participants identified the need for a mother-scholar group (perhaps a more inclusive name such as caregiver group) because of the new challenges brought about by the pandemic. The participants were interested in NCTE shaking up what academic work looks like right down by thinking about outlets in addition to journal publications that could show value. Sieben also noted the expressed need to help those who are untenured right now since they are facing specific challenges.
- Johnson asked about potential next steps in terms of determining the needs/future of the program, including how long the official mentoring would last. Goering said that the current iteration will be ended in a few weeks and a survey will be disseminated to determine next steps.
- Destigter asked how often mentors/mentees met and what the relationships were like. Sarigianides shared her process with her former mentor and current mentee. Johnson suggested that these questions could be asked on the survey to college data.

6. Guidelines for issuing statements in response to current events/tragedy/injustice (Discussion)

- Johnson said that she is wondering if there should be a committee that responds to specific issues that arise in society on behalf of ELATE. She said that graduate students reached out to her asking about this after the recent violence in Atlanta. She said that NCTE released a statement and she encouraged the grad students to do so as well, but is still wondering what procedure if any ELATE should have.
- Butler said it could be difficult to have a team dedicated to writing statements because it can often be so difficult to find the words.
- Johnson said that putting together a specific group might be an undue burden but wondering about how it might work.
- Mirra asked about whether NCTE has a specific process for deciding when/how to respond to incidents. Goering said that NCTE EC has a rapid response team but the process is still unclear.
- Behizadeh shared in the chat that her center amplifies statements made by NCTE or AERA.
- Garcia asked for consideration of what statements like these accomplish.

7. NCTE Standards for the Initial Preparation of Teachers of English Language Arts 7–12 (Discussion)

- Johnson said that the standards are back with the committee, which is going to meet next Thursday, 5/20/21. She said that concerns about digital literacy were voiced at the EC meeting, which generated suggestions that were brought back to the committee. The committee is going to review these and continue work on the standards.
- Behizadeh asked if middle school standards would be created or only grades 7-12. Johnson said that NCTE is going to do pre-K through 6 standards later down the line.
- Goering asked about process after revisions are made. Johnson said that the revisions may go back to the NCTE EC.
- Shoffner asked about whether there was a timeline for the release of the updated standards that could be shared with interested parties. Johnson said that latest update is that the standards are in the process of being approved and that the committee is working as quickly as possible while making sure that all voices that need to be included are heard.
- Shoffner asked if ELATE members may have missed the opportunity to give feedback. Goering said that the request for feedback was sent through NCTE Inbox and that the start of the pandemic may have caused it to get buried.

8. Connection between the ELATE membership and English Education (Melanie Shoffner)

- Shoffner thanked EC members who wrote or reviewed for EE in the past year. She said that despite the difficult year the ELATE reviewers did fantastic work.
- Shoffner asked what the process would be to shift the relationship between ELATE membership and EE subscription so that instead of individuals becoming members of ELATE when they subscribe to the journal, they could instead receive the benefit of a subscription to the journal when they become members of ELATE. She said that membership could potentially be positively impacted by this shift. Johnson said that this question speaks to a larger identity issue about what it means to be a member of ELATE. Ritchie said that this shift would be a massive undertaking that would impact many groups within NCTE because of the complex nature of NCTE’s membership structures. Goering reminded everyone to tell those in their networks that if they do not receive the EE journal in print or digitally that they are not members of ELATE since many do not realize that.
- Shoffner asked what the process would be to change the release dates of the 4 annual issues of EE from particular months to seasons (Winter, Spring, Summer, Fall). Shoffner is going to email Kurt to ask about any potential ramifications of this shift and bring those answers back to the EC to consider since the EC has ultimate responsibility for any changes to EE.
- Mirra said that CITE English journal is not included on NCTE’s list of journals on its website and asked for future consideration of the role of CITE English within ELATE and NCTE.

9. ELATE’s role in NCTE policy priorities that address teacher preparation in English Education (Thinking Session/Discussion)
- Johnson asked the group to consider the role that ELATE should have in wider NCTE dialogues related to policymaking, teacher education pipelines, and growing the network.
- She asked that EC members add thoughts to the Google doc linked in the agenda in all three of these areas over the next several weeks. She said she will compile suggestions into a report.

10. New Business

- [No new business – continuing conversation about the questions related to English Education as recorded in Agenda Item 8.]

Motion 2021.3: Behizadeh moved, Goering seconded. Motion carried.

4. Approval of the ELATE EC Minutes

A. May 22, 2020

B. September 15, 2020

5. Acceptance of the Consent Agenda Reports

CONSENT AGENDA: Organizations having a large number of routine matters to approve often save time by use of a consent agenda. This is a portion of the printed agenda listing matters that are expected to be non-controversial and on which there are likely to be no questions.

Before taking the vote, the chair allows time for the members to read the list to determine if it includes any matters on which they may have a question, or which they would like to discuss or oppose. Any member has a right to remove any item from the consent agenda, in which case it is transferred to the regular agenda so that it may be considered and voted on separately. The remaining items are then unanimously approved en bloc without discussion, saving the time that would be required for individual votes.

2020.1 Motion to adopt the Agenda (L. Johnson, Sarigianides) CARRIED (Agenda Item II)

A. Email Ballot: Approval of the appointment of Nadia Behizadeh to ELATE EC

Update on ELATE Summer Conference 2021 given by L. Johnson (Agenda Item IV)

• L. Johnson said she has had business meetings with Ritchie to prepare for the conference. She has put together a conference committee include Garcia and Butler and they are considering whether the conference will be held in person. The ELATE Statement on State-Sanctioned Anti-Black Racism and Violence: A Commitment to Antiracist Instruction in English Language Arts will be used to develop a call for proposals. The call will be sent out to ELATE EC for response. The conference will be held July 15-18, 2021.

Establishing a Standing Committee on Anti-Racist ELATE (Agenda Item V)

• Goering opened up discussion on making a change to the constitution to task the vice chair with leading a standing committee on Anti-racist English language art teacher education.
• EC members broke into four groups of three for initial discussion then ideas were brought back to the large group
• Sarigianides asked if leading this committee would be too much work for the vice chair and questioned whether this should be a standing elected position

- Thein asked for additional detail about the committee. What will be the charge and the work of the committee? Who will do the work? Is the committee about developing processes for change within the organization, or a list of actions? Is it about the structure and practices of ELATE as an organization, or about curricular and instructional change for teacher educators?
- T. Johnson said her group members thought this committee would be distinct from the Commission on Social Justice because of its explicit focus on anti-racism vs. social justice more broadly.
- Mirra asked how labor would be distributed and whether the leader of this committee would rotate. She asked how we can move beyond EC with this work.
- Rodesiler asked about the vision for the committee. Would it be a watchdog group to be sure we’re enacting the tenets about our position statement?
- Destigter asked whether we needed language to clarify the charge of the committee. How would this committee work with the Commission on Social Justice and not duplicate work?
- Thein asked is we need a working group to develop the charge for the committee.
- L. Johnson suggested that members of the committee would work together to shape the committee’s work and determine its purpose. Butler and T. Johnson agreed.
- L. Johnson said that as Vice Chair of ELATE, she would be willing to work on this committee as a co-chair. She also suggested the outgoing chair might chair this committee.
- Rush said that the people on the committee will need to create a charge and determine how to engage people who are not on EC. She also recommended that the committee engage with the ELATE commissions
- Destigter said we should be careful that we’re not moving in the direction of creating another commission. He suggested that the work of the committee could be to coordinate and facilitate the work of the commissions toward anti-racist action and pedagogy.
- T. Johnson suggested that a representative from each commission could serve on the committee.

Other business (Agenda Item VII)

- Goering said that we need gender inclusive language in our materials. Behizadeh said that APA now recommends using they/them rather than his or hers
- Goering said that some ELATE members have asked that ELATE sponsor webinars on social justice/anti-racist issues. T. Johnson said that we need a vetting process for requests like these. Garcia suggests that the new committee could vet proposal. Butler concurred.

| 2020.3 | ELATE FY21 Budget Proposal given by Kristen Ritchie (Agenda Item IV)
- Ritchie provided the budget report for FY2020. Explained that we have a decrease in total net assets due to investments. Membership in ELATE is trending upward, but dues are lagging behind membership increases – expect to see increase from sues in the future. We approved a delayed meeting for the CAEP/NCTE standards revision group last October. We split expenses for this meeting with NCTE
- Ritchie reported that this year’s budget looks different from last year because it’s a non- |

ELATE summer conference year. We expect English Education to remain stable. Member services, dues revenue is tracking below budget but is expected to catch up - we’ve budgeted for a slight decrease. The Research Fund comes from contingency so we’re only going to be able to fund one Research Fund Grant this year. The Treasury note has decreased considerably due to COVID-19. Reserves will drop a bit by the end of next fiscal year.

- Goering asked why we are decreasing Research Fund Grants this year.
- Ritchie explained that grants are based on a 6.5% pull from contigency each year so it varies each year. The $6600 from this year must cover the Graduate Student Research Award and the Research Initiative Award.
- Goering asked whether, since the in-person NCTE Convention may be cancelled this year, we can take the $500 from the Graduate Student award and add it to the $2500 and offer two $1800 grants.
- Ritchie said that we could.
- Others offered ideas for places to reallocate funds. Mira suggested money for CITE editor to attend conference; Thein suggested per diems for Executive Committee to attend the business meeting at the Annual Convention.
- Goering suggested caution given potential declining funds in the future and recommended a middle ground.
- Further discussion ensued about a reasonable amount to re-allocate.

We are in the final stages of drafting all the materials that go along with the standards. Planning must be done by June 5. The vote by NCTE Executive Committee will be on June 15. CAEP/NCTE Standards Revision Work led by Marshall George and Donna Pasternak (Agenda Item VII)

- Goering provided background on the CAEP standards report and new committee that was selected over the summer that had a two-day retreat in October in New York to work on the CAEP report. Followed NCTE’s process for selecting committee members that includes representation from classroom teachers and people from a range of geographic areas.

- George provided background on NCATE, CAEP, and the evolution of standards documents. Explained that the CAEP standards committee worked with the 2012 standards, aligning them with INTASC principles as an organizational framework so standards would be aligned across SPAs.
- Pasternak explained that they reduced the number of standards and embedded the social justice standard across all of the standards so that the social justice standards become more concrete. They aligned the language with the elementary standards - using two verbs in each standard now since that’s what elementary did. They got some feedback that one verb would be better, but following the elementary model.
- Sarigianides explained that we will share references along with the standards, and ELATE members will need to help provide key references for the standards.
- Goering explained that we’ll create an ad hoc committee for looking at and updating the references.
- George recommended that ELATE updates the 2003 guidelines as our parallel document with the standards.
- Goering described the many stakeholders who will review the standards in the coming months. February 21 - standards will go to the NCTE Executive Committee, report and revised standards go back to CAEP by July 1.
- EC members moved into small groups led by Sarigianides, George, Pasternak, and Goering to review the standards and rubric for review.
- EC members reconvened and shared initial feedback
- Recommendations included: consistency of language ("social justice," "equity," "inequity," "anti-bias"); work on the glossary; reconsider "identity markers"; what do we mean by "research informed"; consider what is means to be an advocate and what advocacy we can we expect from pre-service teachers; "theoretical perspectives" instead of "critical theories"; "anti-bias" - could it be "humanizing," "restorative," or "anti-racist"; change "language" to "languaging"; is stakeholders a business term?

NCTE/CAEP Program Coordinator Report given by Paul Yoder

- 86 programs were reviewed last year - only two were not recognized. One submitted using 2002 standards and hadn’t been keeping up. The other program will get through.
- Pre-reviews are being conducted for programs so that they have better successes.
- NCTE has positioned itself as an advocate. CAEP works for us. These are our standards.
- 12 new reviewers were recently trained - we have about 75 reviewers. There are two review cycles a year - one in fall, one in spring.
- After summer 2020, CAEP will not be sponsoring the SPA review process through CAEP. The pre-work of coordinating program will be moved to the SPA coordinators. It is unclear whether this will reduce fees paid to CAEP.
- An NCTE specific review process (in place of CAEP SPA review process) that is separate from CAEP is under consideration. Many people seem to like this idea. If NCTE is not a part of the accreditation process than our voice will not be heard as a professional organization. This is also a potential revenue opportunity for NCTE.

The ELATE FY19 Year-End Financial Report and FY20 Year-to-Date Report given by Emily Kirkpatrick, Franki Sibberson, and Jon Coffman (Agenda Item VI).

- Kirkpatrick said that NCTE is flourishing, we have over 8300 people at the convention. She acknowledged the work that ELATE is doing on ELA standards.
- Kirkpatrick said NCTE is engaging in the process of NAEP revisions to the reading framework. Allison Skerrett, Emily Kirkpatrick, Carol Lee, and other NCTE members are on the various panels engaged in this work. Provide information/feedback on these reading frameworks back to Allison.
- Kirkpatrick said NCTE moved the Squire Office to Notre Dame under the direction of Ernest Morrell. We are working with the research teams, etc. to communicate four new
• Coffman said overall FY19 was a good year and ELATE exceeded budget. Membership dues revenue is down 1.5% but the membership number has increased. Coffman explained that revenue is recognized behind membership number increases or decreases.
• Coffman said ELATE is in good financial standing. The ELATE Summer Conference was financially successful. Even though registration revenue was decreased, overall expenses were down, which created a net income that exceeded budget.
• Goering asked whether it a problem that we are drawing on reserves for research grants.
• Kirkpatrick said it is not an immediate problem, but could be down the line. We need to think about whether our research grants are helping us with our goals for recruiting more people into ELATE.
• Coffman said that our contingency reserve is in ok shape. It looks lower right now because of the summer conference.
• L. Johnson asked why the conference was less than budgeted.
• Goering said the university covered all spaces - no rental costs; one keynote was covered by another agency; unused meal tickets were credited to us.
• Garcia asked why are subscriptions to English Education are going down more than memberships if they are linked.
• Kirkpatrick said the institutional subscriptions are going down.
• Goering said that if you are not getting English Education you are not an ELATE member.
• Thein said that this may be a website issue. It should say that you are joining ELATE, not just electing to get English Education.
• Ritchie said the website has been updated but may need more attention.
• Butler suggests that EC members talk to college-level librarians about institutional subscriptions.
• Kirkpatrick said that we were concerned first with individual memberships and conference attendance. We need to look now at institutional memberships and other ways to increase revenue.
• Thein asks whether RTE has this problem.
• Kirkpatrick said no.
• Thein said that this might be because EE is not indexed.
• Kirkpatrick and Goering suggest that we look into this.

November 2019 ELATE Vice Chair Election (Agenda Item VIII)
• Goering provides statements from three candidates – L. Johnson, Sealey-Ruiz, and Thein.
• EC members read statements, then complete secret ballot.

ELATE Mentoring Program and Program Coordinator Discussion facilitated by Goering (Agenda Item X)
• Goering said the we need someone to step into the role of coordinating the ELATE Mentoring Program this with him and then take over.
• Long said ELATE GS seminars collapse into Veal seminar, GS doesn’t have its own event. She said the ELATE GS supports Veal in recruiting students. The GS would like to be a part of the process for selecting a new chair of the ELATE Mentoring Program and for selecting mentors.
• Goering said that Melanie Shoffner is leading the Veal seminar, but won’t be able to do this in the future since she’s going to be editing English Education. Veal has 21 students this year and 15 mentors.
• Destiger asked how Veal is publicized to graduate students.
• Long said through social media and through GS member institutions; they are looking for other ways to do this.
- Goering said if you want to volunteer or recommend someone for one of these positions, please let him know. The Mentoring program usually has the chair as an ELATE member, but not Veal.

Future ELATE Summer Conference Discussion facilitated by Goering (Agenda Item IX)
- Goering said that some of the Vice Chair candidates did not want to have the conference at their home institution.
- Ritchie said the chair could be program chair but not host the conference. Could also have chair who is not program chair.
- Goering said that it might also be a good idea to have the summer conference at a place that is easier to get to since this is our galvanizing event.
- Schaffsma said it’s a lot to balance the conference and running the business meeting/headed the organization.
- Sarigianides said the timing of conference in the middle of the summer is difficult. Earlier in the summer? Early June?
- Ritchie said that feedback on timing is always mixed.
- Goering said that people complain if it’s earlier as well so moving the date around might be best.
- L. Johnson said it was great to be in Fayetteville. It felt like we were at Chris’ home. He was hosting us. Alabama could use a critical mass of people doing the kind of work we’re doing.

ELATE Events at NCTE November 2019 in Baltimore, MD (Agenda Item XIII)
- The EC dinner will be on Thursday night.
- Rainbow Rowell will be the ELATE luncheon speaker. She is a YAL author of books including Eleanor & Park and Fan Girl.
- The ELATE business meeting and social will be on Friday.

ELATE Award Committees 2019-2020 (Agenda Item XII)
- Committee assignments were pointed out (in other agenda items).

Ad-Hoc Committee on ELATE Outreach
- Destigter said the committee has looked at state affiliates, individual English education programs; how to establish relationships with them; reading faculty; the Literacy Research Association; MLA; what kind of collaborations do we do already? What might we get involved in? CEL as a possible place to expand/connec. What liaisons with other conferences to we already have?
- Butler said the work we did in English Education was citing work out of the field. It would be an interesting challenge to EE to make one of our issues specifically from people from outside of the field. Could this be a special issue and/or a focus beyond that?
- Blackburn said that this ties back to and earlier conversation with CITE-Journal and a question around whether she (when EC Chair) should go to the CITE Conference.
- Rush said we talked earlier about the position of program chair. Manage outreach. Reach out to singletons wherever they are and provide support.

Two new Ad Hoc Committees formed
- Ad-Hoc Committee to Investigate and Make a Recommendation: ELATE Outreach (Sieben, Destigter, Rush, Sealey-Ruiz, Butler, Garcia)
- Ad-Hoc Committee to Support the NCTE/CAEP Revision Team (Goering, Rodesiler, Johnson, Sarigianides, Long, Skerrett, Thein)

4. Approval of the Minutes, ELATE EC Meeting, November 2018

5. Acceptance of the Consent Agenda Reports

   CONSENT AGENDA: Organizations having a large number of routine matters to approve often save time by use of a consent agenda. This is a portion of the printed agenda listing matters that are expected to be non-controversial and on which there are likely to be no questions.

   Before taking the vote, the chair allows time for the members to read the list to determine if it includes any matters on which they may have a question, or which they would like to discuss or oppose. Any member has a right to remove any item from the consent agenda, in which case it is transferred to the regular agenda so that it may be considered and voted on separately. The remaining items are then unanimously approved en bloc without discussion, saving the time that would be required for individual votes.

2019.1 Motion to approve the November 2018, ELATE Executive Committee meeting minutes. (Schaafsma, DeStigter) CARRIED (Agenda Item IV)

ELATE EC liaisons reported on the work of ELATE Commissions, as follows:
- Commission on Dismantling the School-to-Prison Pipeline (David Kirkland and sj Miller)
  - DeStigter noted that he has not served as liaison since they have not met in recent years
  - Discussion of potentially closing the commission
  - Goering noted that we have some maintenance to do on the commissions

2019:2 Motion to approve the Consent Agenda. (T. Johnson, DeStigter) CARRIED (Agenda Item IV)

A. February 2019 ELATE Chair Report to the NCTE EC (Chris Goering)
B. English Education Editor Approval Eballot

The ELATE FY19 Financial Report and FY 20 Budget and Executive Director Report given by Emily Kirkpatrick (Agenda item VI).
- Kirkpatrick announced that NCTE has had its first growth in membership revenue in over 10 years (which is as far as accounting records go back). Membership was down for 18 years, but we expect more growth this year.
- Kirkpatrick shared that NCTE will reboot its publication division with a significant
• Kirkpatrick said that we’ve seen a continued decline in journal subscriptions and we’re working on that problem.
• Kirkpatrick mentioned that new partnerships are on the horizon and there may be a potential grant for NCTE to work with ELATE on teacher education.
• Kirkpatrick shared that ELATE has been judicious with budget and spending. DeStigter asked what we are doing well. Kirkpatrick said was don’t host extra dinners, we are careful about catering, and we don’t fund EC travel.
• Kirkpatrick said that we need to work on retention of new members. Goering said that people may think they are members of ELATE, not realizing that they must elect to receive English Education in order to join ELATE. Thein asked if this might be an issue with messaging on the website. Blackburn and Dunn confirmed that the website is an issue.
• Kirkpatrick said NCTE is working on closer relationships with publishers as well.

| 2019.3 | Motion to Approve Budget (Blackburn, Rush). CARRIED. (Agenda Item VI). | D |
| 2019.4 | Motion to Approve CAEP Budget (L. Johnson, T. Johnson). CARRIED. (Agenda Item VI). | D |

CAEP Budget Discussion
• L. Johnson asked how people are being selected to work on the CAEP two-day working team.
• Goering explained that some people have already been working on it and there is a call out right now that has been pushed out to all caucuses. Goering invited EC members to respond to the call if they are interested. He said they are hoping for some people with assessment strengths and noted that eight people have responded to the call so far.
• Blackburn noted that ILA has hired people who are assessment experts to work on this task. This is difficult for NCTE because it doesn’t align with our priorities.
• Rush noted that recent news from ILA indicates they are leaving CAEP.
• Sieben noted that most New York public institutions are not working with CAEP, but instead with AQIP.
• Kirkpatrick said that some states have had success with AQIP and others have not.

| 2019.5 | Motion to Approve ELATE Graduate Strand Funding Request (Blackburn, L. Johnson) CARRIED. (Agenda Item VII) | D |

ELATE Graduate Strand Funding Request Discussion (Agenda Item VII)
• Dunn explained that the Graduate Strand has requested that the $200 that has been requested through discretionary funds each year for support of their newsletter and coffee/snacks for the GS business meeting be added as a line item on the budget.
• Blackburn said this is a good idea because the budget gets approved by all of EC while discretionary items are approved only by the EC chair.
• Goering said that it’s good to support graduate students this way and wonders if they need more financial support.
• Dunn explained that there has been an increase in participation from students from a wider array of colleges and universities. She said the GS is working to increase its diversity, but find this difficult because of conflicts with the NCTE schedule.
• Blackburn and L. Johnson commented that this is not a scheduling problem so much as a problem of ELATE not doing work that people of color value. ELATE needs to work on this.
• L. Johnson suggested that ELATE send a faculty liaison to GS – someone to help graduate students make connections.
• Dunn and Goering agreed to work together to think about who might be a good liaison/advocate and invite that person to the GS meeting.
November 2019 ELATE Vice Chair Election Discussion (Agenda Item VIII)
- Goering explained that Sieben, Sealey-Ruiz, Sariganides, Rush, Thein, Garcia, L. Johnson, and DeStigter are eligible.
- Goering shared his experiences with being chair.
- Suchor suggested that we could uncouple the conference hosting from the EC chair role.
- Schaafsma suggested that we contact people from the list of eligible people to see who might be interested.
- Suchor said that a call from nominations will be sent out in August.
- DeStigter suggested that Goering contact people who are eligible but not in attendance at the meeting.

Considerations of Future ELATE Summer Conferences (Agenda Item IX)
- Goering said that six EC members did not attend the conference. Each had valid reasons for not attending, but it is difficult to have only half of EC at the business meeting (although we did get a forum since Sieben attended via Zoom).
- Goering noted that 195 presenters were accepted, but 145 people will attend and present. He wondered whether the problem is location, theme, summer burn-out, or something else.
- Goering said that this conference is the most important thing we do. He asked whether EC members should be required to be here.
- Suchor explained that attendance at the conference should be required of EC members.
- Blackburn and Rush said that they thought attendance was required.
- Rush highlighted two issues. First, we need to document attendance as a requirement in the EC contact. Second, we need to understand that presentations with multiple authors often have only one author in attendance.
- Suchor explained that the ELATE summer conference is not meant to be a money maker, but is meant to be a galvanizer. Attendance for this year looks similar to other years.
- Suchor stated that the by-laws specify that EC members must attend all meetings, but they don’t explicitly reference summer conferences. We do have an attendance policy that states that a written warning is issued after two missed meetings. Further missed meetings can result in discretionary removal from EC. EC members have a fiduciary responsibility to attend and vote.
- T. Johnson recommended that we make these responsibilities more explicit during the nomination process, at election time, and during the opening breakfast with new members.

English Education 50th Anniversary (Agenda Item X)
- T. Johnson shared that English Education will be marking its 50th anniversary.
- Goering said that the new dean of the college of education at the University of Arkansas will share remarks at a reception in the evening, then former editors will share sentiments.

ELATE Events at NCTE November 2019 in Baltimore, MD (Agenda Item XII)
- Goering said that there should be very little conflict with sessions and our business meeting and social hour. We voted in November not to schedule ELATE tagged sessions against our business meeting and social hour.
- Suchor said that some sessions may still be scheduled against our business meeting and social hour.
- EC will meet on Thursday for our business meeting.
- EC dinner will be on Thursday night.
- Rainbow Rowell will be the ELATE luncheon speaker. She is a YAL author of books including Eleanor & Park and Fan Girl.

Nominations for Next ELATE Mentoring Program Coordinator (Agenda Item XIII)
- Goering said that nominations are being accepted for the ELATE Mentoring Program Coordinator who will co-coordinate with Goering and then take over.
- Goering will take nominations through August 1, 2019.
- Goering said he will include the call for nominations in message to other EC members.

SECTION 8: Awards

ELATE James N. Britton Award for Inquiry Within the English Language Arts

Purpose: To encourage English Language Arts teacher development, consistent with the major goal of ELATE, by promoting classroom-based research in which teachers at any educational level raise questions about teaching and learning in their own teaching/learning settings.

“It is the continual reformulation of what we know in the light of what we perceive that matters: and the hardening of what we know into a formula that we apply ready-made instead of reformulating - that is the danger. Thus, our most powerful ideas are relatively general, relatively unformulated starting points from which we constantly reformulate.....Research findings are things we can know which could have bearing on what we do when we teach. And ‘development’ should be the name of the process of bringing this kind of knowing into relationship with this kind of doing.” p. 150—James N. Britton, A Note on Teaching, Research and 'Development' in Prospect and Retrospect: Selected Essays of James Britton. Edited by G.M.Pradl, Boyton/Cook, 1982.

Nature of the Award:
A specially designed certificate for a maximum of three winners annually and a ticket to be a guest at the ELATE Luncheon.

Criteria for the Award:
1. Nominated work should represent classroom based research conducted by an English Language Arts teacher at any level—preschool through University.
2. Focused on a systemic study of any aspect of the inquirer’s own teaching, including collaborative research with other practitioners.
3. Published in any format/modality, including books, articles, and digital illustrations of model practices in the field, during the two-year time period under consideration.

Procedures:
1. Establish a three-member committee—appointed by the ELATE chair
2. The chair of the Award Committee will establish procedures for obtaining nominations and for selecting the finalist, in consultation with the committee. The recipient will be announced at the ELATE luncheon during the Annual Convention.
3. Nominations may be made by any Language Arts educator or by self-nomination.
4. Announcements of the procedures and of the recipients will be placed in English Education as well as other NCTE publications and notices will be sent to all affiliate publications and other relevant publications.

The first award was presented Spring 1990.
Beginning with the 2004 award, nominations must be received by May 1. Winners will be announced by July 1 and the award will be presented at the ELATE luncheon during the NCTE Annual Convention in November.
Beginning in 2014 Britton is awarded only in odd numbered years if nominations warrant presentation.

Visit https://ncte.org/elate-james-n-britton-award/ for a list of winners.

ELATE National Technology Leadership Award

Each year, the English Language Arts Teacher Educators (ELATE) identifies a recipient of the ELATE National Technology Leadership Award. The award provides an opportunity to present at the annual Society for Information Technology in Teacher Education (SITE) international conference. All NCTE members, especially ELATE members, are encouraged to nominate themselves or a colleague whose accepted NCTE Annual Convention proposal demonstrates cutting-edge and generative methods of integrating newer technologies into teacher education courses or workshops. In addition to teacher education faculty and graduate students, Pre-K - 12 teachers may also be nominated.

Although all nominations will be considered, members of the ELATE Commission on New Literacies, Technologies, and Teacher Education, who judge for the award, are particularly interested in identifying outstanding work in teacher education courses or professional development programs. Commission members look for presentations that

- Focus on theoretically sound and research-based methods of teaching the English language arts/literacy in which the technology is a secondary rather than primary focus;
- Use technology to create beneficial opportunities for English language arts/literacy learning that could not exist without the technology;
- Improve students’ mastery of English language arts/literacy learning;
- Use technology to address challenges faced by many English language arts/literacy teachers and/or students or the broader community; or
• Introduce new methods for teaching the English language arts/literacy with the use of newer technologies in ways that show promise of working well in widely divergent educational settings.

Nominations must be e-mailed to the co-chair of the ELATE Commission on New Literacies, Technologies, and Teacher Education Committee by August 15. Each nomination must include the following:

1. Presenter’s name and contact information (home and school addresses and phone numbers),
2. Session title and description (and, if possible, the session number, day and time),
3. A copy of the session proposal, and
4. A detailed statement explaining how the presentation illustrates the characteristics the award is intended to identify (see above bullet points)

ELATE Research Initiative Grants

Purpose

Nature of the Award
A specifically designed certificate will be given to the winners at the ELATE Business Meeting/Social at the NCTE Annual Convention. The English Language Arts Teacher Educators (ELATE) is an organization concerned with the process of educating teachers of English and language arts. That education involves both the preservice and the inservice development of teachers. Included in the constituency of the ELATE are college and university teacher-educators; inservice leaders and consultants; supervisors at local, district, regional, and state levels; mentor teachers; teacher consultants curriculum coordinators and developers; teacher-researchers; and classroom teachers who work with student teachers.

Published Quarterly, English Education contains articles that focus on issues related to the nature of the discipline, especially as it spans all levels of instruction, and the education and development of teachers of English at all levels.

CITE: English

Contemporary Issues in Technology and Teacher Education (CITE) Journal is an online peer-reviewed journal examining the meaningful intersections between technology and teacher education. The journal has multiple sections, each focused on a specific area of interest: English Language Arts, Mathematics, Science, Social Studies, General and Current Practice. The English Language Arts section is supported by the National Council of Teachers of English (NCTE) and the English Language Arts Teacher Educators (ELATE).

CITE: English provides a space to consider the issues found in the intersections of English education and technology. The online format of CITE: English encourages authors to incorporate web links, streaming video, sound files and other interactive technology into their writing.

CITE Journal is now accepting submissions addressing current issues in English teacher education, the English Language Arts and technology are always welcome, particularly those that integrate theory, research and practice. All submissions are peer reviewed.

The Council recognizes the desirability of organizing affiliates at local, regional, state, or interstate levels, but normally not more than one affiliate shall be accepted into the Council from any one of these levels in any single geographic area except for justifiable reasons. Whenever applications for affiliation are received from a new association in a locality, a region, or a state in which another affiliate at the same level is already operating, the Executive Committee shall not take action on the application until at least thirty days after the application is announced in a regular communication sent by the Council to affiliates. The Council shall encourage local, regional, and state groups to affiliate with the next higher unit as well as with the Council.

A copy of this constitution shall be filed in the executive office of the Council with an indication of the stated provision.

3. An affiliate or a group applying for affiliation with the National Council shall establish at least one general meeting a year for its total membership, of which a part shall be devoted to the business of the affiliate, and at least one other additional meeting a year of its governing body.

All shall be classroom teachers at their respective levels at the time of nomination. All shall serve two-year terms.

3. Nominating Committee. A Nominating Committee of seven members, five elected by ballot and two appointed by the Officers, shall propose candidates for an election conducted during April and May. Candidates for election to the Nominating Committee shall be grouped by geographical region and by voting section (elementary, middle, secondary, college), with the voting sections rotating annually among the regions. The elected candidate receiving the greatest number of votes shall chair the Nominating Committee. No member elected to the Nominating Committee for two consecutive years shall be eligible for reelection until two years have passed. The chair of the Nominating Committee in any one year will serve as consultant to the Nominating Committee elected the following year.

4. Election Procedures and Calendar. The procedures and calendar for nomination and election shall be as follows:

a. Nominations. The Nominating Committee shall send to the Executive Director not later than December 15 the following slate of candidates: two candidates for vice president, two candidates for representative at large, two candidates for each vacancy on the Board of Trustees of the Research Foundation, and fifteen candidates for the five places on the Nominating Committee during the following year. Should an unexpected vacancy call for a special election (see Article VI, Section B, Part 5), the Nominating Committee shall prepare slates as requested by the Executive Committee. The Nominating Committee shall serve from September 1 following its formation through August 31 of the next year.

b. Publication of the Slate. The Executive Director shall send an announcement of the slate of candidates to the membership during the February preceding the next election.

c. Petitions. Additional names for trustees of the Research Foundation, representatives at large, and members of the next Nominating Committee may be added to the ballot by a petition signed by fifty members of the Council provided that the petition reaches the Executive Director of the Council not later than January 10, that it is accompanied by the written consent of the person nominated, that the person nominated be a member of the Council, that in the case of the representative at large the person nominated be a classroom teacher from the appropriate level, and that in the case of the Nominating Committee the person is from the appropriate level (elementary, middle, secondary, or college) for that particular region during the year in question. A separate petition shall be required for each nomination by petition.

d. Balloting. Ballots shall be sent to members of the Council on or about April 15. The deadline for returning ballots shall be June 1. In each case, the candidate receiving the greatest number of votes shall be elected.

e. Announcement of Results. Immediately after the balloting has closed and the results are known, the Executive Director shall notify all candidates. Included in the first fall mailing to the membership at large shall be a report of the results.

5. Continuity of Officers. If the office of the president is vacated, for whatever reason, the president-elect shall serve also as president pro tem. In that event, the Executive Committee shall appoint a member of the Council to perform the duties of the president-elect until the end of the next annual meeting. If the office of either president-elect or vice president is vacated, the Executive Committee shall follow the same procedure of appointing a member of the Council to carry out the duties of that office until the end of the next annual meeting. If the office of the past president is vacated, the quorum specified in Article VI, Section C, Part 1, shall be reduced by one.

For such vacancies, among the office of president, president-elect, or vice president, the Nominating Committee shall submit within two months of the vacancy a slate of two candidates for a special election by the membership. The individual so elected shall assume office at the next annual meeting. Those appointed by the Executive Committee to fill the offices until that annual meeting shall not continue in succession of offices unless their names are included in the slate submitted by the Nominating Committee and they are elected by the membership. A president-elect who serves as president pro tem through the annual meeting shall succeed to the presidency, and the retiring past president shall be invited to serve an additional year on the Executive Committee. Should that person decline, the post of past president shall be left vacant and the quorum specified in Article VI, Section C, Part 1 shall be reduced by one. Should the successful candidate for vice president withdraw after the election but before assuming the duties of that office, the candidate on the same slate shall assume the duties. Should that candidate decline to serve or be unable to serve, the Executive Committee shall fill the post by one-year appointment as stipulated above.

C. Executive Committee

1. Membership and Quorum. The officers of the Council (the president, the president-elect, the vice president, and the past president), the chairs and associate chairs of the Sections, the representatives at large, the chair of TYCA, and the chairs of the NCTE conferences (CCCC, ELATE, CEL, and WLU), shall constitute the Executive Committee, which shall be responsible for approving official NCTE policies, i.e., decisions concerning internal Council operations and structure. A simple majority of the total number of voting members of the Executive Committee shall constitute a quorum.

2. Duties. The Executive Committee shall take actions on position statements on educational issues approved by the Board of Directors or by the entire membership in ballots, exercising budgetary responsibility in implementing such actions. Subject to the limitations imposed by Article XII, Section A, the Executive Committee shall have the authority to approve budgets, to review annual audits, to enter into contracts, to incur debts, to invest funds, and to sell and acquire property in the best interests of the Council. Such activities shall be reported annually to the Board of Directors.

3. Eligibility. Although not barred from candidacy for election to the Executive Committee, editors of Council journals, directors of commissions, and trustees of the Research Foundation shall resign from those positions if they are elected to the Executive Committee.

4. Electronic Meetings. Any meeting of the Executive Committee may be conducted by electronic means such as conference telephone call, webinar, or similar electronic communication, so long as all persons participating are able to remain in communications contact with one another at the same time. Participation by such means shall constitute an individual’s presence in person at the meeting. Provided that a quorum exists, decisions taken by vote during electronic meetings shall be deemed binding, in the same manner that decisions taken by vote during live meetings are.

VII. SECTIONS

A. Membership

Individual voting members of the National Council of Teachers of English select the Section in which they wish voting membership: Elementary Section, Middle Level Section, Secondary Section, or College Section. All individual voting members receive a subscription to The Council Chronicle.

B. Governance of Sections

1. Section Committees. Each Section shall have a steering committee known as the Section Committee, with eight elected members and with the officers of the Council serving as ex officio members of their respective Section Committees. In addition, when the voting membership of a Section exceeds 10,000, the Section Committee shall be increased by one member for each additional 5,000 voting members. Section Committee members shall usually serve for four-year terms and shall take office at the close of the November meeting following their election.

   Each Section Committee shall have a chair whom the membership of the Committee shall choose from among those Section Committee members who have one or more years to serve. The term of the chair shall be two years.

   In addition, when the voting membership of a Section exceeds 15,000, the Section Committee shall elect from its membership an associate chair. For each further increase of 15,000 voting members in a Section, the Section shall elect an additional associate chair. The term of office for an associate chair shall normally be two years, and the election for this office shall normally be in alternate years from the election of the Section chair. When a Section Committee member who has only one year remaining on the Section Committee is elected as Section chair or associate chair, that member will serve an additional year on the committee in order to complete the two-year term as chair or associate chair. An associate chair with one or more years left to serve on the Section Committee at the time of the election of the next chair shall be eligible to serve as chair. If the Section Committee chooses an associate chair to serve as chair, they shall also select another member of the Section Committee to fill the unexpired term of the associate chair.

2. Section Nominating Committees. Each Section shall have a nominating committee of three members, elected by ballot of the membership of the Section. The candidate receiving the greatest number of votes shall chair the committee. The Section Nominating Committee shall be chosen from a slate of six candidates prepared by the Section Nominating Committee in the preceding year.

   Except under one circumstance, the Section Nominating Committee shall send to the Executive Director by December 15 a slate of four candidates, two to be elected to the Section Committee; and six additional candidates, three to be elected to constitute the next Section Nominating Committee. The exception occurs when Sections reach 15,000 voting members and thus have more than eight elected members on the Section Committee, in years when more than two vacancies are to be filled, the Section Nominating Committee shall submit a slate of twice the number of candidates needed to fill all vacancies.

3. Petitions. Slates submitted on December 15 shall appear in the Section journals in March. Additional nominations either for the Section Committee or for the Section Nominating Committee may be added to the ballot by a petition signed by fifty members of the Section provided that the petition be accompanied by a statement of written consent from the persons nominated, that the candidates be members of the Section in question, and that the petition reach the Executive Director of the Council not later than January 10.

4. Calendar of Events. Ballots shall be sent to members of the Sections on or about April 15. The deadline for returning ballots shall be June 1. All candidates shall be notified immediately of the results. A general announcement to the membership shall be included in the first fall mailing to the membership.

VIII. COMMITTEES OF THE COUNCIL

In addition to the committees authorized in Article VI, B3 and C (Nominating Committee and Executive Committee) and Article VII (Section nominating committees and Section steering committees), and to affiliates (Article V), the Council recognizes the following constituent groups:

A. Committees

A commission shall issue progress reports and terminal reports to the Executive Committee and Board of Directors of the Council at times designated by the Executive Committee.

C. Conferences

Conferences are authorized by the Executive Committee of the Council for specific or indefinite terms with the principal responsibility for holding meetings for exchange of views on specific professional topics. The chair and other officers may be appointed by the Executive Committee of the Council or elected by the membership of the conference, as the Executive Committee of the Council authorizes when the conference is established. A conference when authorized shall have the responsibility for planning its meetings and interim activities, subject to the approval of the Executive Committee of the Council. If the Executive Committee of the Council so requests, a conference shall issue progress reports at times designated by the Executive Committee of the Council.

Approval of application for the authorization of new conferences shall be subject to minimum requirements for membership and for annual income, such requirements to be set by the Executive Committee of the Council. All individual voting members of a conference shall also be members of the Council.

D. Task Forces

Task Forces are authorized by the Executive Committee of the Council to carry out specific, targeted, high-priority projects identified by the Executive Committee. The director of a task force shall be appointed by the Executive Committee, and its members shall be approved by the Executive Committee. E. Assemblies

Assemblies are authorized by the Executive Committee to serve the interests and purposes of persons who share special interests or who have jobs alike. To be authorized, an assembly must maintain a minimum membership of twenty-five, and all officers and other members of its governing board must be members of the Council. An assembly shall pay to the Council annual dues which shall be keyed to the size of assembly membership and shall follow the same schedule as dues for NCTE affiliates as stated in Bylaw 2. An assembly may set whatever individual dues its membership authorizes.

B. Name
The name of this Foundation shall be the Research Foundation of the National Council of Teachers of English, Established in Honor of J. N. Hook.

C. Trustees

1. Management of the Foundation shall be vested in seven Trustees, none of whom shall be at the same time members of the Executive Committee, and whose policies shall be subject to approval by the Executive Committee.

2. The term of the Trustees shall be three years. One or more Trustees shall be elected each year, as needed to maintain a total of five elected Trustees. The two additional Trustees shall be appointed by the five elected Trustees, for terms varying from one to five years each, at the discretion of the elected Trustees. Any Trustee who has served six consecutive years may not serve again until at least three additional years have passed.

3. Nomination and election of the Trustees shall be conducted in the same way as nomination and election of Council officers as described in Article VI, Section B4 of this Constitution.

4. The duties and responsibilities of the Trustees shall be (a) to encourage gifts and special grants to the Foundation; (b) to manage the investment of funds not currently needed to carry on the work of the Foundation; and (c) to grant funds to qualified individuals, committees, and other groups, within or outside the Council, for specified projects of the sort for which the Foundation is established.

5. Except for the payment of reasonable compensation for services actually rendered to or for the Foundation, none of the funds or earnings of the Foundation shall inure to the financial benefit of any Trustee or of any other private person or party, but shall be used solely and exclusively for the objects and purposes of the Foundation and the Council.

6. The Trustees shall not grant or make commitments to grant funds in excess of those currently in the treasury of the Foundation.

D. Contributions to the Foundation

1. After the election of the first Trustees, the Council shall transfer to the Foundation from its accumulated earnings a sum of money to be determined by the Executive Committee. Thereafter, additional transfers of Council funds may be made as directed by the Executive Committee.

2. Council members and other individuals, groups, or corporations shall be encouraged to make donations and bequests to the Foundation, such gifts to be used at the direction of the Trustees in accordance with the purpose of the Foundation. Donors or grantors may specify the uses of their gifts if those uses fall within the purpose of the Foundation. The Trustees shall be empowered to accept or decline any proffered gifts.

X. OTHER GROUPS WITHIN THE COUNCIL

The NCTE Executive Committee may establish other kinds of groups within the Council (e.g., consortia and associations) to meet the emerging needs of its members. The Executive Committee will review such groups every three years to determine whether they are continuing to meet the needs earlier identified and if they are fulfilling their membership projections and fiscal goals.

XI. MEETINGS

A. Meetings of the Council
The annual meeting of the Council shall be held at such place and time as the Executive Committee shall designate, and shall provide in its schedule time for an Annual Business Meeting for the Board of Directors and other members of the Council. B. Meetings of the Board of Directors

1. Time and Quorum. The Board of Directors shall meet in connection with the Annual Business Meeting at the time and place of the annual meeting of the Council. Special meetings of the Board shall be called by the Executive Director at the direction of the Executive Committee, or upon written request made three months in advance of the date for the meeting by twenty percent of the members of the Board. Twenty percent of the Board shall constitute a quorum.

2. Exceptions. In the event that there is no annual meeting of the Council, there shall be a meeting of the Board of Directors. In the event that a meeting of the Board of Directors shall prove impossible, the Executive Committee shall submit all required reports by mail to the Directors and shall seek by ballot votes on proposed policy statements.

C. Annual Business Meeting

The Directors present and other Council members present shall adopt any special rules governing the conduct of the meeting, including the specification of a quorum. Directors present and other Council members present may participate in debate and vote on position statements (resolutions) and other matters at the meeting. A majority of those present and voting shall be required for approval of a resolution. Each resolution so approved will be presented to the entire membership for ratification on a ballot, accompanied by explanations of the effects, positive and negative, of the statements. All resolutions forwarded to the membership must be ratified within 30 days by a majority vote in which the number of those voting for ratification equals at least ten percent of the Council’s membership. Resolutions so ratified by the membership shall become official NCTE positions that go to the Executive Committee for action.

XII. BUDGETS

A. Limitation

Neither the Council nor any officer or committee shall contract indebtedness exceeding the net balance then remaining in the treasury plus fifty percent of the other assets of the Council.

B. Budgets

The Executive Committee shall consider each May a tentative budget for the next fiscal year. Proposed budget requests from constituent groups of the Council shall be submitted to the Executive Director not later than September 15. At its November meeting, the Executive Committee shall amend or confirm the budget proposed in May. Expenditures which are provided for within the budget shall be authorized by the chief fiscal administrator of the Council. Expenditures which exceed budget ceilings or support activities not provided for in the budget shall require authorization by the Executive Committee.

C. Fiscal Year

The Executive Committee shall determine the date of the fiscal year.
XIII. AMENDMENTS

A. Requirements

This Constitution may be amended by two-thirds vote of the members present at any regular meeting of the Council, provided that at least one month’s notice be given to each member of the nature of any proposed amendment or addition, such notice to be sent upon the order of the Executive Committee; or by two-thirds vote of those participating in a ballot submitted to the members of the Council.

B. Proposal by Petition
