For the ELATE Executive Committee meetings, members are provided a $50 per diem to help defray living expenses. (ELATE's finances and its policies prevent paying travel expenses to conventions.)
- Respond to inquiries and assume tasks at home as requested by the ELATE chair. Costs of postage, photocopying, and an occasional phone call in connection with these duties will be reimbursed, if necessary, by ELATE.

- Participate in the voting election of the ELATE chair and the other officers. The ELATE chair becomes a member of the NCTE Executive Committee. (Members have the option not to run for the chair.)
- Recommend candidates to both the ELATE and NCTE Nominating Committee to help assure quality in the continuing governance of ELATE.
- Participate in conference planning and review proposals.
- Make nominations for ELATE awards.
- Serve as informal advisors to the ELATE journal and advise the editor on matters of content.
- Serve if invited on other ELATE programs, subgroups, etc., but not when such invitations involve conflicts with ELATE meetings and other responsibilities outlined above.
- Have an e-mail account and respond in a timely way to messages and duties communicated online. There is a lot of ELATE business that is taken care of through electronic communication.
- Candidates agree not to campaign during the election process.

NOTE: Candidates for the ELATE Executive Committee, who would like to serve on other NCTE commissions and standing committees, executive committees or other conferences, or NCTE section committees during their tenure on the ELATE Executive Committee need to refer to the NCTE Policy on Multiple Roles.

Veal Seminar Chair

The Veal Seminar Chair will be a three-year appointment for an ELATE EC member, appointed by the ELATE Chair. If no EC member is available for this position, the ELATE Chair will appoint an ELATE member. The appointment should be made before the end of the previous Veal Seminar Chair's term so that the incoming Chair can attend a Veal Seminar before taking on this role.

ELATE Executive Committee Attendance Policy

The English Language Arts Teacher Educators Executive Committee members, elected by the ELATE membership to represent and serve the organization committed to English Language Arts teacher education, hold an Executive Committee Meeting at the NCTE Fall Convention. To assure that all members know the importance of attendance, the Executive Committee passed the following policy on November 21, 1996, at Chicago, Illinois.

Elected members of the ELATE Executive Committee who miss two meetings will receive a Letter from the ELATE Chair. The letter will state the importance of having each member's voice in the Executive Committee discussions and will offer the member the opportunity to resign. The spirit of this letter is to acknowledge that sometimes people's circumstances change and that they might welcome this option. If the member does not wish to resign, the letter will nudge the Executive Committee member to return to the meetings. If the member resigns, the person who received the next highest number of votes the year the original member was elected will be invited to serve the rest of the term. If a member of the ELATE Executive Committee misses three board meetings, the Chair will ask the board to consider replacing that member with the person who received the next highest number of votes. The ELATE Chair will assure that all appropriate paperwork at NCTE headquarters is completed.

Reimbursement and Expense Policy

ELATE Executive Committee members will receive a $50 per diem for attending the ELATE Executive Committee Meeting at the NCTE Annual Convention.

CODE OF ETHICS FOR NCTE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE AND NCTE CONFERENCE AND ASSOCIATION EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEMBERS

Approved: NCTE Executive Committee, August 1, 2008

Updated November 2021

Code: Members of the NCTE Executive Committee and NCTE Conference and Association Executive Committees are committed to observing and promoting the highest standards of ethical conduct in the performance of their leadership and governance responsibilities. Executive Committee members pledge to accept this code as a minimum guideline for ethical conduct and embrace these principles and practices:

Principles of Accountability

1. Faithfully abide by the articles of incorporation, constitution, by-laws, practices and policies of the National Council of Teachers of English.

2. Exercise reasonable care, good faith, and due diligence in organizational affairs.
3. Fully disclose, at the earliest opportunity, information that may result in a perceived or actual conflict of interest, in accordance with the NCTE Conflict of Interest policy. Conflicts of interest are defined as interests external to NCTE that may affect NCTE's ability to conduct objective, advantageous, and unbiased decision making. This could include voting or guidance on a particular matter, business decisions, and overall strategy. Perceived conflicts are those that could be questioned by others as negatively influencing the organization for the benefit of another group, individual, organization or business. Perceived and actual conflicts of interest are not typically defined as relationships with one's employer (school or university). Rather, they typically exist with consulting groups, organizations, publishers, and others.
4. Fully disclose, at the earliest opportunity, all information and insights that would have significance in Executive Committee decision-making.
5. Remain accountable for prudent fiscal management to association members, colleagues in our broader professional community, and where applicable, to government and funding bodies.

Actions We Undertake to Promote Accountability

1. We make it a point to explain fully and fairly actions or decisions undertaken by the Executive Committee to our particular constituencies and to colleagues across the professional community. When necessary, we reserve the right to keep certain actions and decisions confidential.
2. We take collective responsibility for EC decisions, and avoid criticizing actions undertaken through majority vote by the Executive Committee.
3. We faithfully attend Executive Committee meetings, phone calls, and virtual meetings that are necessary to sound governance decision-making. When attending a meeting, we give the matters at hand our full attention, and prepare by reading briefing materials distributed in advance and asking questions/offering insights that have a bearing on the decisions before us.
4. We require an independent audit of Council finances annually, carefully study the findings, and pursue improvements or remediation when appropriate.
5. We study the annual budget, reports on operations, and the reports of constituent groups to ensure that Council resources are being used prudently, in accordance with our mission, purpose, and multi-year strategic priorities.

Principles of Professional Excellence

1. Maintain a professional level of courtesy, respect, and objectivity in all NCTE Executive Committee and NCTE Conference and Association Executive Committee activities. This includes acknowledging differences of opinion, providing for open and honest discussion, and making decisions only after hearing all points of view and considering all relevant data.
2. Maintain knowledge of NCTE positions and guidelines and endeavor to advance or explain them to a range of audiences. Avoid allowing leadership role in NCTE to be associated with political statements or public policy views that don't align with those officially adopted by the Council.
3. Support and encourage membership and participation in all NCTE programs, use of NCTE publications and resources, and sharing in NCTE communities.

Actions We Undertake to Promote Professional Excellence

1. We listen actively in all governance proceedings and seek out points of view and data that may challenge conventional perspectives before reaching a decision.
2. We encourage and affirm expression of a variety of points of view among Executive Committee colleagues and avoid actions or patterns of behavior that may create factions or cliques within the Executive Committee.
3. We treat staff and all NCTE members with respect and strive for transparency in all communications when appropriate. We avoid private lobbying of or by members, constituents, staff, or vendors that may bias governance decisions we need to reach as an Executive Committee or may otherwise defame the Council or misrepresent its policies and positions.

Principles of Fiduciary Responsibility and Confidentiality

1. Make decisions for the good of all members of NCTE rather than for their personal benefit, or that of the constituency (section, conference, association, or other group) they associate with.
2. Respect the confidentiality of sensitive information known through service to the organization.

Actions We Undertake to Exercise Fiduciary Responsibility and Confidentiality

1. We strictly comply with the Avoidance of Conflicts of Interest policy, stay abreast of NCTE financial policies and risks/opportunities inherent in our governance decisions, and act to maximize the long-term benefit of NCTE and its members.
2. We do not divulge information shared with the board in confidence. Similarly, we strictly avoid sharing financial, operational, or human resource information..

Equal Opportunity and Diversity

1. Ensure the right of all association members to appropriate and effective services and leadership opportunities without discrimination on the basis of sex, gender, sexual orientation, national origin, race, color, religion, age, political affiliation, veteran's status, disability, or any other protected classes in accordance with applicable legal and regulatory requirements.

Actions We Undertake to Advance Equal Opportunity and Diversity

1. We encourage nominations, appointments, and new program development and support to advance greater diversity and opportunity for all members of the Council.

NCTE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE AND NCTE CONFERENCE AND ASSOCIATION EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE CONFLICT OF INTEREST DISCLOSURE AND CONFIDENTIALITY POLICY

(Approved August 1, 2008; updated November 2021)

Members of the Executive Committee must reflect the highest standards of ethical behavior, integrity, and public responsibility. NCTE recognizes the inherent right of members of the Executive Committee to pursue outside interests. However, these outside interests may affect a transaction in which NCTE is involved or diminish NCTE's ability to conduct objective and unbiased decision-making. If an actual or perceived conflict of interest may exist, members are required to disclose the potential conflict to the Executive Director and President of NCTE.

Conflicts of interest are defined as interests external to NCTE that may affect NCTE's ability to conduct objective, advantageous, and unbiased decision making. This could include voting or guidance on a particular matter, business decisions, and overall strategy. Perceived conflicts are those that could be questioned by others as negatively influencing the organization for the benefit of another group, individual, organization or business. Perceived and actual conflicts of interest are not typically defined as relationships with one's employer (school or university). Rather, they typically exist with consulting groups, organizations, publishers, and others.

Examples include:

- Serving as a paid consultant to NCTE or to a vendor to NCTE or to one of its subsidiaries or to affiliates;
- Serving in a fiduciary role for another organization that competes with NCTE or takes public positions adverse to those of NCTE;
- Receiving from NCTE an award, contract, grant, or sponsorship in excess of $1,000 annually;
- Investing significantly in an entity that deals with NCTE in a commercial capacity; or
- Having family members or business associates with these relationships.

ADVANCE DISCLOSURE REQUIREMENT AND REPORTING PROCEDURE

Each NCTE EC and NCTE Conference and Association EC member will disclose each issue, subject, person, or entity in which s/he has a financial or other interest where there is the potential that the NCTE Executive Committee or NCTE Conference and Association Executive Committee may make decisions that affect that issue, subject, person, or entity.

To ensure accurate, up-to-date information, each NCTE EC and NCTE Conference and Association EC member will be reminded to review their disclosure statement twice each year (e.g., via email, during on-site meetings) as well as contact the staff liaison to update as necessary at other times.

Each EC member will describe clearly their interest in each such issue, subject, person, or entity on this form supplied by, and returned to, NCTE's Executive Director. The information on this form will be reviewed by NCTE's President and Executive Director, and shared with NCTE's Executive Committee or NCTE Conference and Association Executive Committee if relevant to the discussion at hand. EC members are asked to sign this policy prior to the beginning of each of the years of their terms. Thereafter, they update it at the first Executive Committee meeting of each fiscal year.

IMMEDIATE DISCLOSURE REQUIREMENT AND REPORTING PROCEDURE

When the NCTE Executive Committee or NCTE Conference and Association Executive Committee addresses an issue, subject, person, or entity in which an NCTE EC or NCTE Conference or Association EC member has a financial or other interest that that EC member did not list on the annual disclosure form (whether because the EC member did not anticipate the matter arising or otherwise), s/he will immediately disclose the potential conflict.

If the EC member discovers the matter prior to the beginning of an Executive Committee meeting or call (e.g., upon reading the board agenda book), the EC member will provide the necessary disclosure to NCTE's Executive Director. If the matter is discovered during an Executive Committee meeting or call, the EC member will immediately stop the conversation and inform the board of the potential for a conflict of interest. If the EC member feels that the issue requires confidential treatment, the EC member may instead inform the President (or, if the President is the one with the potential conflict, the President-Elect) who will decide if the board needs to be informed of the matter.

PROCEDURE FOR DEALING WITH POTENTIAL CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

The Executive Committee will determine whether each issue raised on an annual form or on an ad hoc basis requires that the EC member's participation be altered. The board may require that the EC member: (a) remove themselves from voting on the issue, (b) not participate in either the discussion of the issue or the vote on it, (c) leave the room during discussion and voting on the issue, or (d) merely explain their interest in the matter more fully so the Executive Committee may weigh that EC member's participation with complete understanding of the situation. If warranted, the information will be reviewed by the President for evaluation and possible recommendation to the Executive Committee. The Executive Committee, not the volunteer making the disclosure, has the exclusive authority and responsibility to decide an appropriate reaction to the disclosure. This may be:

1. Disclosure. The disclosure of a volunteer's other interest is worthy of the board's attention. The disclosure itself, and the board's awareness of the disclosure, is considered sufficient to correct for any bias it might entail. So the board is likely to decide although the volunteer clearly has some other interest, the board and/or committee will simply take the information into account as the volunteer participates in decision-making.
2. Recusal. The other interest that has been disclosed affects an important policy or program for the association. To assure the NCTE and its constituency that board decision-making is without bias, it is best for the volunteer to recuse themselves when the board/committee takes reports, debates, or makes decisions about that policy or program. The volunteer is asked to leave the room for any discussion on the topic.
3. Resignation. The other interest relates to a continuing, pervasive, and important board or committee function, one that cannot easily be isolated on an agenda so as to permit recusal. In this case, the volunteer may be asked to resign their position, if this is the only way to ensure the other interest does not intrude upon and skew board decision-making. This is an extreme and rare result of a volunteer's disclosure, but it is conceivable.

CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

Confidential information disclosed to members of the NCTE Executive Committee, NCTE Conference and Association Executive Committee, or executive staff will be treated as confidential. They may not use or disclose confidential information except as authorized by NCTE, and they should make their best efforts to prevent unauthorized disclosure. "Confidential information" includes that which is marked "Confidential" or which reasonably should be understood as expected to be kept in confidence, as well as deliberations, discussions, and debates on those matters, unless the information is available through public sources.

Unauthorized disclosure of confidential information could cause irreparable harm and significant injury to NCTE and its members. Upon request, any confidential information will be returned to NCTE. For these reasons, NCTE has a separate Confidentiality Agreement (see Appendix CC) all NCTE Executive Committee and NCTE Conference and Association Executive Committee members sign annually.

Updated November 2021

I, _____, an unpaid volunteer of the National Council of Teachers of English (“NCTE”), understand that through my work with NCTE, its constituents, affiliates and contractors I will be given access to sensitive and confidential internal information of NCTE, its related entities, constituents and contractors including, but not limited to, operating procedures, protected intellectual property, data, information (including details about individuals), as well as financial information (“Information”) by NCTE. I agree that all such information shall be held in strict confidence and that I will not divulge such information to any party without the prior, written consent of the Executive Director or NCTE President. I understand that the Information may be shared or discussed with only those individuals approved by NCTE and that it may not be disclosed to any other individual or entity, including but not limited to other NCTE constituents, volunteer leaders, staff or other individuals. # SECTION 4: Elections

English Language Arts Teacher Educators (ELATE) Nominating Committee Responsibilities & Activities

- Eight candidates are nominated and five are elected members to the ELATE Nominating Committee.
- Serve on the Nominating Committee for one year. The term begins in September of the year elected.
- The candidate receiving the largest number of votes automatically becomes chair.
- The nominating process is initiated when the Nominating Committee Chair receives nominations by mail (in response to a call placed in numerous Council journals.) The Chair circulates these names to the other committee members for consideration. NCTE staff will create a listserv for the committee for that purpose.
- The Nominating Committee initiates suggestions for nominations and may submit these suggestions individually by a group consensus.
- All of the nominating committees attend the Annual Convention in November. Section nominating committees meet on Saturday and Sunday mornings to discuss the names submitted by mail, to solicit further nominations, and to generate nominations from within the committee as needed. The individual dates, designated meeting places, and times will be detailed in a Procedures and Responsibilities memo sent in August.
- The committee's work is essentially completed in mid-December. After convention, the work is finalized by e-mail and/or by telephone conversations.
- The committee works within standard NCTE policies on multiple roles, representation of people of color, and related matters. This information is explained in detail in the Procedures and Responsibilities memo and election policies can be found on the NCTE website.
- Under Council policy, the committee's convention expenses cannot be paid, but expenses for postage and telephone calls are reimbursed.

All Nominating Committees:

Online Meeting

Members Present: Keisha McIntoshh Allen, Nadia Behizadeh, Anthony Celaya, Keisha Green, Davena Jackson, Lindy Johnson, Jung Kim, David Low, Keisha McIntyre-McCullough, Joanne E. Marciano, Grace Player, Luke Rodesiler

Ex Officio: Rubén Gonzalez

Staff: Kristen Ritchie

1. Welcome & Community Building
  - Behizadeh invited attendees to introduce themselves and share personal and professional updates. Attendees did just that.
2. Brief opening remarks
  - Behizadeh opened by inviting attendees to reflect on the theme of the last ELATE conference, which involved taking care of oneself and pursuing justice.
3. Adoption of the Agenda
  - Motion: Kim moved, Low seconded. Motion passed.
4. Approval of the February 2024 minutes
  - Motion: Kim moved, Player seconded. Motion passed.
5. Budget review and discussion
  - Ritchie shared the FY2025 budget proposal.
  - Ritchie explained that membership is currently “middle of the road” at 997.
  - Ritchie provided a summary of FY2024 financial results. Ritchie highlighted the fact that net assets have increased by $51,425, which is beyond projections, and explained that membership decreased by 8.9% for the fiscal year.
  - Ritchie encouraged ELATE EC to think about recruitment and retention efforts.
  - Ritchie reviewed the FY2025 budget, with expenses projected to be lower, largely because there is no summer conference.
  - Ritchie stated that the proposed budget accounts for a projected 21.4% increase in membership dues and institutional subscription revenue as compared to FY24.
  - Ritchie reminded attendees that the 2025 ELATE Summer Conference is slated to run in July 2025 (i.e., FY26).
  - Ritchie pointed out that investment income has been kept flat at a rate of return of 3.825%, which is based on the recommended long-term investment outlook.
  - Ritchie noted that the FY25 budget projects reserves increasing to approximately $336,505 by the end of the year.
  - Ritchie noted that 6.5% of the prior-year Contingency Fund is used for research.
  - Behizadeh asked about the zeros in the far-right column for FY25. Ritchie explained that items were being recognized in the wrong bucket, so the intent is to align items with the proper budget code.
  - Green asked how determining what could be earmarked for honoraria would be done. Ritchie explained that she can provide past budgets for Green to review.
  - Rodesiler sought clarification about the research funds, specifically whether $500 for travel is in addition to or included within the $10,000 budgeted for research, for the document seemed to indicate disparate approaches. Ritchie stated that she would need to confirm which way it goes and revise the proposed budget accordingly.

- Behizadeh invited a motion to approve the FY2025 budget proposal.
- Motion: Green moved, Marciano seconded. Motion passed.

6. Transformative project update

- Green provided an overview of the transformative project proposal, which is focused on documenting and examining beliefs, practices, and contexts of excellent justice-centered ELA teachers in different U.S. locations with varied school contexts.
- Green highlighted feedback received from NCTE administration: project needs to serve all of ELATE; potential conflicts of interest must be considered.
- Ritchie underscored the importance of ensuring the needs of ELATE membership are served and of considering the perception of the project being limited to ELATE EC members.
- Green invited other attendees to share their thoughts.
- Kim expressed support for the project and suggested that considerations of representation might play a role in the selection process (e.g., geography, school setting).
- Marciano expressed appreciation for Kim's thoughts and for the idea of engagement of ELATE membership could come through different avenues (e.g., podcasts, workshops). Marciano also asked if any revenue from the project could go back to ELATE funds.
- Johnson stated that she thinks the project is brilliant and seconded Marciano's comment about engagement with ELATE membership coming through various means.
- Behizadeh asked for a show of hands of EC members who would be interested in working on the project. Several hands went up.

7. ELATE summer conference, July 2025

- Green announced July 10-13, 2025 as tentative dates for the 2025 ELATE Summer Conference. Green announced Charleston, SC, as the tentative location for the 2025 ELATE Summer Conference. Green explained that the event would be put on in partnership with The Avery Research Center at the College of Charleston. Green explained that the preliminary theme is "(Re)membering to Imagine Forward." Green said she'll be reaching out to recruit folks for the planning committee.
- Shoffner suggested working with English Education as a publication outlet for the ELATE Summer Conference.
- Green explained that drafts of the call for proposals will be shared in the near future.

8. ELATE member engagement opportunities.

- Behizadeh expressed a need to engage members and prospective members.
- Behizadeh shared the intent for more regular email communication, including the sending of a "newsletter" in June with publications from EC members, highlights from our journals, save-the-date for the summer conference, and an announcement about the mentoring program.
- Behizadeh shared the idea of holding member gatherings to discuss articles published in English Education. She highlighted the potential of having these dates pre-determined so those teaching doc seminars in teacher and teacher education could put these on their syllabi.
- Behizadeh shared an online advertisement and wondered if additional information might be included.
- Ritchie explained that the ads are small, so there's little room to add too much detail.
- Behizadeh invited thoughts from others in attendance.
- Ritchie shared that virtual engagement attendance numbers have been very low, even when registration numbers might suggest otherwise.
- Marciano emphasized the importance of offering what people want and need.
- Celaya stated that he has personally experienced strongest engagement in ELATE through the commissions. He stated that sometimes he receives communication from commission leaders without immediately seeing its connection to ELATE, and he wondered if there might be a way to tie such messaging more closely to ELATE.

- McIntyre-McCullough suggested looking for dead spots in membership engagement, areas where membership and engagement could be built up.

9. Commissions leadership meeting update and discussion (Nadia and others)

- Behizadeh reported on the commission leadership meeting. She shared that commission leaders reported one issue being that people show up to the commission meeting now knowing what the commission is and what it does. Accordingly, one idea is to have the first meeting be framed as a commission overview, and the second meeting is framed as a business/working meeting.
- Shoffner wondered if commissions might be highlighted in the Convention highlights mailer to alleviate confusion.
- Behizadeh shared the idea of emphasizing more cross-commission communication.

10. Awards committees

- Behizadeh explained that there were no submissions for the Smitherman grant and that the deadline is extended until June 30th.
- Green asked attendees to encourage folks to submit applications.

11. Update on mentoring project

- Marciano thanked Behizadeh and Green for their support. She reported that 64 people expressed interest in participating and thanked attendees who volunteered to participate.
- Marciano shared the idea of a virtual kick-off event in the fall and said plans are to send emails out in a couple of weeks to notify participants about their partners.
- Behizadeh said “ELATE Mentor” and “ELATE Mentee” ribbons have been ordered for the NCTE Annual Convention.
- Marciano invited email communication from anyone who didn’t yet volunteer but would still like to do so.

12. Update on mission statement revision (Melanie, Grace, and Anthony)

- Player explained that it is an in-process project.
- Shoffner noted that ELATE has a one-sentence statement that defines what the group is, so determination must be made if that’s sufficient.
- Ritchie suggested looking at the object in the ELATE constitution as well.

13. Updates from our editors: Melanie Shoffner (English Education) and Brad Robinson (CITE-English)

- Shoffner said one special issue is in production and one is being finalized.
- A written statement from Robinson about CITE-English was provided: “We have recently accepted the first articles to appear in our special issue series, ‘Critical Perspectives on Platforms in ELA Teacher Education.’ These articles, as well as an editorial introduction by Phil Nichols, Brad Robinson, and Allie Thrall (editorial assistant), will appear in the journal’s September issue. The special issue series will publish additional articles over the next four issues, ending in summer 2025 with an invited commentary and editorial post-script. We’re very excited to initiate this conversation for the ELATE community.”
- Behizadeh thanked Shoffner and pointed out that Celaya and González have pieces in a forthcoming issue.

14. Updates from ELATE-GS

- González said ELATE-GS is finalizing programming for 2024-25 and will reach out to EC members for participation.

15. New/Other Business

- Behizadeh explained that the NCTE EC has formed a taskforce on discussing difficult topics, so the ELATE EC is going to let them take this on to avoid duplicating efforts. Once that is out, a decision can be made on if creating a guide for teacher educators that links to this resource is something we want to take on.

- Low shared a brief update on behalf of the group revising the Performance Assessment Rubrics for the 2021 NCTE Standards. Ritchie said the plan is to move forward with what was submitted by that group.

16. Announcements and Thanks

- Behizadeh encouraged folks to let her know if they have anything they want to put on the agenda for EC meetings.
- Behizadeh thanked attendees who reviewed for the special issue of English Education.
- Behizadeh shared that the next ELATE EC meeting will be in September.
- Behizadeh shared that the ELATE EC meeting in Boston is scheduled for Wednesday, November 20, 2024, 9-2:30 pm ET. Snacks and coffee will be provided in the morning and then a boxed lunch provided at lunchtime.
- Green encouraged folks local to the Boston area to invite folks to attend the NCTE Annual Convention in Boston.

- Ritchie told EC members to be on the lookout for forms coming via email.

4. Approval of the November 16, 2023, ELATE EC Minutes

- Motion: Player moved, Kim seconded. Motion passed.

5. Kristen update on ELATE membership

- ELATE membership is down 3-4% from what was anticipated, so Ritchie encouraged EC members to promote membership.
- Regarding the membership process, Ritchie explained that there's now an option for proration to get everything (i.e., NCTE membership and English Education subscription/ELATE membership) on term if necessary.
- Behizadeh asked how the membership dip compares to other constituent groups of NCTE. Ritchie stated that some conferences are struggling with membership, but NCTE membership has increased overall.
- Behizadeh encouraged EC members to promote ELATE membership.
- Kim suggested that Commission lists might be a good place to start, as the membership for some of those people may have lapsed.
- Player volunteered to share a blurb about ELATE membership in spaces frequented by members of other professional organizations.
- Behizadeh asked how ELATE as a group communicates with members.
- Ritchie explained that some groups communicate regularly—even monthly—sharing opportunities.
- Behizadeh suggested we could consider drafting a newsletter that highlights work that's been done, awards, recipients, etc.

6. Commissions and Committees:

a. New leadership policy

- Behizadeh asked how this has gone in discussion with commission chairs.
- Goff stated that she shared it with the commission for which she is the liaison. She said it was well received.
- Behizadeh asked that liaisons share the leadership policy with committee chairs.

b. Commission leaders gathering (when and why convo)

- Behizadeh explained that commissions were not intended to exist forever but that they have largely become stable entities.
- Behizadeh suggested that convening a meeting of commission chairs stands to improve communication and amplify the opportunities available to members (and prospective members).
- Johnson concurred.
- Ritchie suggested that they function as higher functioning special interest groups, and noted that isn't a terrible thing. Ritchie suggested that a meeting could help to re-establish the structure and how commissions function within ELATE.
- Behizadeh said she'd send out a Doodle poll to identify potential dates for such an event.

7. Possible statement on teaching about Israel and Palestine from NCTE--discussion

- Behizadeh provided context by explaining that the committee against racism and bias put out a statement in solidarity with Palestinians. The presidential team disavowed the statement because it wasn't approved through the proper channels.
- Behizadeh expressed concern that there's no statement that reiterates that we are in support of teachers who are trying to have difficult conversations with students about the matter.
- Ritchie said the presidential team has been actively working on the issue. Any action is based on the policy Ritchie recently shared via email. Anything put forward by ELATE requires approval from the presidential team.
- Behizadeh stated that the guidelines say that statements must be connected to literacy.
- Behizadeh shared a proposed "NCTE Statement on Supporting Teachers in Discussing Israel-Palestine." She invited EC members to read the document and comment on it as they see fit.
- Kim shared an incident that occurred in a school in her region as an illustration of the tension that surrounds the issue. Kim confirmed her belief that it's something that needs to be addressed.
- Player thanked Behizadeh for drafting the statement and stressed the contextual aspects that shape how the issue affects teachers and students.
- Green suggested it might be helpful to stress that the statement aligns with the NCTE mission.
- Gonzalez thanked Behizadeh for the work she's put in to developing the statement and highlighted some suggestions he offered in the document.

- Behizadeh invited EC members to email her if they would like to share any additional thoughts on the statement.
8. Current projects: check ins and then break out groups
- Resource Guide for Teacher Educators: Teaching for Justice During a Time of Censorship: Behizadeh, Green, Kim, Low, Goff, Jackson, and Allen. Behizadeh invited folks working on the project to speak on it. Behizadeh explained that the project could become something that people could return to.
  - Ritchie suggested getting feedback from the Standing Committee Against Censorship once the document is ready to go.
    - a. Revising our mission: Shoffner, Player, and Celaya agreed to work on revising our mission to better reflect our core values (see our homepage); a next step after this would be to revisit our 2009 beliefs about social justice statement
  - Behizadeh explained that the mission is vague and needs improvement. The goal is to have something in May that the ELATE EC can review and discuss.
9. Updates from our editors: Melanie Shoffner (English Education) and Brad Robinson (CITE-English)
- Behizadeh thanked folks who reviewed submissions for the special issue that came out of the last ELATE Summer Conference.
  - Behizadeh encouraged EC members to sign up to be a reviewer if they are not already.
  - Robinson addressed CITE English. He explained that a forthcoming themed issue addresses critical perspectives on digital platforms in ELA teacher education. A NCTEAR symposium will feature some of the pieces to appear in that special issue.
10. Updates & Asks from ELATE-GS co-chairs: Rubén González & Katie Caster

  - Green invited EC members to share ideas as they arise.
12. Announcements and Thanks

5. Acceptance of the Consent Agenda Reports

- ELATE Vice Chair Eballot from October 16, 2023
- Commission on Digital Literacies and Teacher Education (D-LITE)
- English Education* Editor Report
- Commission on Writing Teacher Education
- Commission on the Teaching of Poetry
- Commission on English Methods Teaching and Learning
- Commission on Social Justice in Teacher Education Programs
- Commission on the Study and Teaching of Adolescent Literature
- CITE (English)* Journal Report

- 2022–23 ELATE Research Initiative Report: Supporting Preservice Teachers in Troubled Times: A Transdisciplinary Intervention to Develop Pre-Major’s Sense of Belonging to a Justice-Oriented English Education Program
- Commission on Arts and Literacies (COAL)

- Kim expressed a desire to revisit how we as EC members can best support commissions and what to do as issues arise.
- Behizadeh noted that the D-LITE Commission wants a website, but that’s a question for Kristen Ritchie. Behizadeh pointed to the English Methods Teaching and Learning Commission and wondered if some of their work is relevant to ELATE beyond the commission.
- Green asked what happens to commissions that don’t have reports.
- Shoffner advised reaching out to the research initiative winners to remind them that English Education has the right of first refusal.
- Low noted the downtick in submissions for both English Education and CITE Journal. Shoffner explained the current timeline for publication of the journal as a product of a lack of submissions. Behizadeh explained that the special issue of ELATE is drawing interest and that CITE Journal noted the same effect of special issues.
- Shoffner thanked people for taking on the review requests that she has sent of late.
- Allen drew attention to the Social Justice in Teacher Education Programs Commission’s concerns about what to do with meeting time during conferences and how to keep it rolling with a reduced number of people in attendance at conferences.
- Behizadeh noted the conflicts between commission meetings and conference presentations.

- Motion: Kim motioned to approve the consent agenda; Marciano seconded. The motion passed.

6. FY23 Year-End and FY24 First Quarter Financial Report (Kristen Ritchie)

- Ritchie shared report. She explained that most expensive have hit already. Investments increased $31,000, which is better than the year before. FY23 ended with net income of ~$54,000, so FY23 was very good for its investments. We continue to budget it very conservatively because of the potential for ebbs and flows. Membership for ELATE has increased, which is different than other conferences. Increases for the cost of journals have generated new revenue, and non-member subscribers have gone up. $9,000 in profit for ELATE in 2022 based on the joint Summer Conference.
- Ritchie explained that the research initiative and the graduate student research funding comes from the contingency fund. She advised considering if that's something that ELATE EC wants to continue to do.
- Green asked about campaigns to support recruitment. Ritchie explained that lists from multiple firms are used to promote.
- Low asked if investment gains are pulled out and put aside or reinvested. Ritchie explained that they are reinvested.
- Behizadeh asked if contingency funds can be used for new EC-driven projects. Ritchie encouraged asking, "Is now the time for that?"
- Green asked if recruitment campaigns would target particular demographics. Ritchie said it would be broader than that.
- Ritchie explained that the 2023 ELATE Summer Conference was a rousing success. She said it was the largest stand-alone ELATE Summer Conference.
- Jackson wondered if part of the numbers going up was teachers looking for ways of supporting students in the current climate.
- Ritchie explained that NCTE is rebooting materials for preservice teachers and making sure that they are aware of what NCTE and ELATE have to offer. Ritchie said auto-renewal is coming back for membership.
- McIntyre-McCullough asked if retired members get a discounted rate. Ritchie said that there is an emeritus membership option.
- Behizadeh asked when we review the new budget. Ritchie explained that would be in May.

7. Commissions and Graduate Student Strand

A. ELATE Commission Liaisons, 2023–2024

- Behizadeh invited members to review their commission assignments. She pointed out the special assignments as well. Behizadeh invited members to let her know if questions about the duties arise.
- Green asked if it'd be appropriate to see if sunseting would be apt for her commission.
- Jackson noted the general nature of the report for the commission she has been assigned and asked if her role as liaison is more of a listening one or more of an active one. Behizadeh explained that the function is to be a connection between the EC and the commission and added that engaging beyond that level is appropriate.
- Green asked about the desire or hope behind commissions to begin with and explained that knowing that would help to inform the roles we take on. Behizadeh explained that there is a process for creating commissions, which are built around affinities expressed by members. Shoffner noted that an action project is another element necessary to commissions. Green asked if there was funding for them. Shoffner explained that there is not, beyond what might be proposed and voted on by the EC. Green suggested that one role might involve accountability. Kim shared experiences in filling the role of a commission liaison to further raise questions about alignment between ELATE and the commissions. Behizadeh drew attention to ELATE belief statements and suggested that a subgroup of EC members might develop a statement that anchors commissions. Green affirmed the notion and added the idea of bringing together commission chairs to make sure everyone is on the same page. Behizadeh suggested beginning by revising the mission on the ELATE webpage and CEE 2009 Social Justice, staggering leadership roles to support continuity, and convening the commission co-chairs. Behizadeh asked if members would be interested in working on a subcommittee to do this work. Shoffner expressed interest in participating in that work, given her interest in how the work of ELATE is communicated. Player volunteered to have her name added to the subcommittee. Celaya also volunteered to participate on the subcommittee.

Behizadeh suggested that EC members suggest edits to the mission in a Google Doc throughout the day. Celaya suggested that the staggering of leadership seems to undermine the provisional nature of commissions.

- Motion: Marciano made a motion to remove “provisional” from the description of commissions on the webpage; Player seconded. The motion passed.
- Celaya advised making further revisions beyond “provisional.” He suggested changing “one” to “a.” Marciano suggested that “one” seems to refer to a broader, singular concept, like “social justice” or “climate.” Rodesiler agreed.
- Motion: Celaya made a motion to change “one” to “a.” Player seconded. The motion passed.
- Behizadeh and Green agreed to meet with Kristin Ritchie to examine commissions further.
- Marciano asked if there could be a casual way for people to learn about the commission (e.g., a table at the social) to avoid learning about it at the commission meeting so that time could be dedicated to working instead. Rodesiler noted that the traditional scheduling of the social after the commission meeting might prevent that, at least at the NCTE Annual Convention.
- Green asked if there are stickers available for commissions. Behizadeh said she’d look into that for commissions and for the ELATE-GS.

B. Proposed Policy for Staggered Commission and ELATE-GS Leadership

- Behizadeh introduced the proposed policy for staggered commission and ELATE-GS leadership. Allen advised ensuring alignment with the best practices guide. Kim advised clarifying that the liaison runs the vote for the commissions. Marciano asked how this process should work. Rodesiler shared his experience running elections as liaison for the D-LITE Commission. Allen asked about the timeline and if there are ways to ensure that members have multiple opportunities to nominate/self-nominate. Behizadeh explained the intent to have a consistent timeline for ELATE elections (i.e., chair, GS, commissions). Behizadeh revised the proposed policy based on feedback. Celaya asked about adding language similar to the constitution about limiting term limits. Celaya suggested maybe that’s something to look at after seeing how interest in leadership emerges within commissions. Behizadeh asked how the GS has run their elections. Phelps explained that they did it in-house.
- Motion: Allen made a motion to adopt the proposed policy for staggered commission and ELATE-GS leadership. Kim seconded. The motion passed.

C. ELATE-GS Strand Report

- Caster shared highlights from the ELATE-GS report, emphasizing specific aspects related to membership, online presence, and involvement at conferences. Green asked if the funds requested are sufficient to cover the social. Caster shared that participation the previous year was low. Behizadeh asked how many EC members encourage their doctoral students to participate in the ELATE-GS, advising that each EC member share information about the ELATE-GS with each of their doctoral students. Behizadeh asked if the ELATE-GS newsletter is sent to EC members. Marciano said she saw it come through Facebook and lauded what the ELATE-GS is doing. Behizadeh encouraged Caster to send the newsletter to EC members. McIntyre-McCullough asked if the ELATE-GS is meeting at the same time as the commissions and if that would be a problem. Behizadeh said she didn’t think it would be a conflict. Caster asked if the mentorship program could be extended to the ELATE-GS members. Ritchie confirmed that the mentorship program has historically involved ELATE-GS members.
- Motion: Marciano made a motion to include at least $200 as a line item on the ELATE budget. Goff seconded. Motion passed.

D. Commission on Climate Justice, Inquiry, and Action

- Behizadeh pointed out two questions raised by the Commission on Climate Justice, Inquiry, and Action. Ritchie explained that the second of the two questions could not be addressed in time for 2023. Behizadeh said she’d take the registration question to the NCTE EC. Green explained that the issue of registration for community partners has come up in the past in other groups she’s worked with.

E. Discussion about how to best support commissions See 7A.

8. Programming

A. ELATE Award Committees, 2023–2024

- Behizadeh asked EC members to review their award committee responsibilities. Green shared ideas about cultivating ideas to get submissions for some awards that got little response to the most recent call (e.g., Moffett Award). Ritchie explained that they promote the awards via Twitter/X. Green asked if sharing graphics would be possible so that EC members could promote the awards. Ritchie confirmed that it is possible and something she'll strive to do for the next round of awards.

B. Veal Seminar Leadership and Continuity (Discussion)

- Behizadeh invited Rodesiler to speak about the Veal Seminar. Rodesiler shared background about the Veal Seminar and how it works. Behizadeh explained the proposal.
  - Proposed addition to ELATE handbook: The Veal Seminar Chair will be a 3-year appointment for an EC member, appointed by the ELATE Chair. If no EC member is available for this position, the ELATE Chair will appoint an ELATE member. The appointment should be made before the end of the previous Veal Seminar Chair's term so that the incoming Chair can attend a Veal Seminar before taking on this role.
- Motion: Green made a motion to add the following proposal to the ELATE handbook. Allen seconded. The motion passed.

C. Rebooting the ELATE Mentoring Program (Discussion)

- Behizadeh reiterated that the mentoring program is being rebooted. Ritchie clarified that it's a year-long commitment for mentors.

D. 2025 ELATE Summer Conference (Discussion)

- Green said she's talked with Tamara Butler about the College of Charleston as the site of the 2025 ELATE Summer Conference. Green invited members to share ideas about the event. Behizadeh noted that a lot of teachers were attracted to the 2023 ELATE Summer Conference by the theme. Green asked about the timeline for generating the theme. Ritchie said the CFP should go out by Fall 2024. Ritchie advised considering the dates, as they makes a difference on which budget it falls into. Ritchie explained that costs for meeting space are typically a significant issue when determining the site. Behizadeh explained that EC members complete reviews for Stage 1. Ritchie advised setting a date before other groups so they have to work around ELATE rather than the other way around. Green invited input on the theme. Shoffner advised planning for the possibility that people may not be able to get funding to travel to South Carolina.

E. ELATE Membership Meeting and Social Scheduling, 2024 and Beyond

- Ritchie addressed the challenge of meeting the request to not schedule ELATE sessions during the ELATE Membership Meeting and Social. Ritchie shared the possibility that the event could be moved to Thursday or Friday evening. Celaya suggested that large sponsored sessions being more selective might help to reduce the scheduling conflicts. Ritchie noted that the section get-togethers are from 5:30-7:15, so starting the ELATE Membership Meeting and Social halfway through—6:30—would allow people to attend both. Behizadeh invited EC members to talk with ELATE members about their preference in the days ahead.

9. NCTE Specialized Professional Association (SPA) Program Review

A. NCTE SPA Coordinator Report (Kari Siko – 12:15 p.m.)

- Siko explained what SPAs are and identified NCTE as one of many SPAs. She explained her role and invited EC members to participate as SPA reviewers. She explained the transition from 2012 to 2021 NCTE standards. Siko explained that virtual trainings are available. Rodesiler asked how frequently the webpage is updated. Siko explained that it's based on cycle: August and February. Marciano asked if doctoral students can be reviewers. Siko confirmed that they can be, provided they were a middle or high school English teacher. Rodesiler asked about time commitment for reviewers. Siko explained that it's typically 5-10 hours per semester, and reviewers are typically assigned a single EPP to review. Siko invited people to contact her with any questions they may have.

B. 2021 NCTE Standards: Performance Assessment Rubrics Revision Group

10. New/Other Business
- A. Teacher Educator Guides for Integrating NCTE Articles into ELA Methods Curriculum (Discussion)
- Behizadeh explained that NCTE is revamping materials for preservice teachers. Behizadeh explained that there is consideration of sharing ways that teacher educators can integrate NCTE articles into ELA methods curricula. Behizadeh asked for thoughts. Green said she likes it. Shoffner says could see members of the EC publishing ideas in the “praxis” section of English Education.
- B. Resource Guide for Teacher Educators: Teaching for Justice During a Time of Censorship (draft here)
- Behizadeh spoke about a resource guide she drafted. She noted that the Intellectual Freedom Center provides many resources for teachers, but not for teacher educators. Behizadeh asks if this is useful and who might like to take it up as a subcommittee. Kim stated that the idea of gearing toward teacher educators is interesting. Kim noted the tension between the teaching of social justice topics and the pressures prospective and early career teachers feel from parents and administrators in conservative school districts and the need for materials that can help in those situations. Behizadeh encouraged EC members to provide feedback directly in the document. McIntyre-McCullough asked about figuring out a praxis project for the summer project. Behizadeh asked if there was interest in a subcommittee for this group. Green, Kim, Low, Goff, Jackson, Celaya, and Allen expressed interest.
- B. Possible interest in an edited book from the ELATE EC? Or handbook...
- Behizadeh shared the idea of EC members choosing their favorite pieces from the field and including them alongside essays, reflections, etc. Ritchie explained that ELATE would need to go through the whole proposal for book projects with NCTE. Ritchie explained that, alternatively, ELATE could pay to have a book published through NCTE if NCTE declined to publish the book.
- D. Other resources ELATE can create? Maybe something like this.
11. Announcements and Thanks
- Behizadeh reminded everyone about the ELATE Syllabus Party, Dec. 8th, 3-4;15pm, and reviewed the NCTE Annual Convention sessions ELATE EC members are expected to attend.
12. Adjournment
- Motion: Rodesiler moved to adjourn. Allen seconded. Motion passed.

SECTION 8: Awards

ELATE James N. Britton Award for Inquiry Within the English Language Arts

Purpose: To encourage English Language Arts teacher development, consistent with the major goal of ELATE, by promoting classroom-based research in which teachers at any educational level raise questions about teaching and learning in their own teaching/learning settings.

"It is the continual reformulation of what we know in the light of what we perceive that matters: and the hardening of what we know into a formula that we apply ready-made instead of reformulating - that is the danger. Thus, our most powerful ideas are relatively general, relatively unformulated starting points from which we constantly reformulate.....Research findings are things we can know which could have bearing on what we do when we teach. And 'development' should be the name of the process of bringing this kind of knowing into relationship with this kind of doing." p. 150—James N. Britton, A Note on Teaching, Research and 'Development' in Prospect and Retrospect: Selected Essays of James Britton. Edited by G.M.Pradl, Boyton/Cook, 1982.

Nature of the Award:

A specially designed certificate for a maximum of three winners annually and a ticket to be a guest at the ELATE Luncheon.

Criteria for the Award:

1. Nominated work should represent classroom based research conducted by an English Language Arts teacher at any level—preschool through University.
2. Focused on a systemic study of any aspect of the inquirer's own teaching, including collaborative research with other practitioners.
3. Published in any format/modality, including books, articles, and digital illustrations of model practices in the field, during the two-year time period under consideration.

Procedures:

1. Establish a three-member committee—appointed by the ELATE chair
2. The chair of the Award Committee will establish procedures for obtaining nominations and for selecting the finalist, in consultation with the committee. The recipient will be announced at the ELATE luncheon during the Annual Convention.
3. Nominations may be made by any Language Arts educator or by self-nomination.
4. Announcements of the procedures and of the recipients will be placed in English Education as well as other NCTE publications and notices will be sent to all affiliate publications and other relevant publications.

ELATE National Technology Leadership Award

Each year, the English Language Arts Teacher Educators (ELATE) identifies a recipient of the ELATE National Technology Leadership Award. The award provides an opportunity to present at the annual Society for Information Technology in Teacher Education (SITE) international conference. All NCTE members, especially ELATE members, are encouraged to nominate themselves or a colleague whose accepted NCTE Annual Convention proposal demonstrates cutting-edge and generative methods of integrating newer technologies into teacher education courses or workshops. In addition to teacher education faculty and graduate students, Pre-K - 12 teachers may also be nominated.

Although all nominations will be considered, members of the ELATE Commission on New Literacies, Technologies, and Teacher Education, who judge for the award, are particularly interested in identifying outstanding work in teacher education courses or professional development programs. Commission members look for presentations that

- Focus on theoretically sound and research-based methods of teaching the English language arts/literacy in which the technology is a secondary rather than primary focus;
- Use technology to create beneficial opportunities for English language arts/literacy learning that could not exist without the technology;
- Improve students' mastery of English language arts/literacy learning;
- Use technology to address challenges faced by many English language arts/literacy teachers and/or students or the broader community; or
- Introduce new methods for teaching the English language arts/literacy with the use of newer technologies in ways that show promise of working well in widely divergent educational settings.

Nominations must be e-mailed to the co-chair of the ELATE Commission on New Literacies, Technologies, and Teacher Education Committee by August 15. Each nomination must include the following:

1. Presenter's name and contact information (home and school addresses and phone numbers),
2. Session title and description (and, if possible, the session number, day and time),
3. A copy of the session proposal, and
4. A detailed statement explaining how the presentation illustrates the characteristics the award is intended to identify (see above bullet points)

English Education

THE OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE ARTS TEACHER EDUCATORS OF THE NATIONAL COUNCIL OF TEACHERS OF ENGLISH

The English Language Arts Teacher Educators (ELATE) is an organization concerned with the process of educating teachers of English and language arts. That education involves both the preservice and the inservice development of teachers. Recognizing the reciprocity of teaching and learning, the ELATE addresses pertinent theory and research as they inform curriculum, methodology, and certification. Included in the constituency of the ELATE are college and university teacher-educators; inservice leaders and consultants; supervisors at local, district, regional, and state levels; mentor teachers; teacher consultants curriculum coordinators and developers; teacher-researchers; and classroom teachers who work with student teachers.

Published Quarterly, English Education contains articles that focus on issues related to the nature of the discipline, especially as it spans all levels of instruction, and the education and development of teachers of English at all levels.
